THE BEECHER TRIAL.

The Interest in the Scandal Case on the Wane.

Testimony of Henry C. Cleveland.

The Original Selection of the Investigating Committee.

NEW YORK, April 22, 1875.

There was a marked decrease in the number of spectators in the Brooklyn City Court room to-day, and even the so-called Plymouth circle was contracted to the proportions usual before Mr. Beecher took the witness chair. The principals in the scandal, together with their counsel, were all present.

H. O. Armour on the Stand.

The proceedings began at twenty minutes past eleven o'clock, when H. O. Armour, produce merchant, was called and testified to declining to examine the papers in the case at the invitation of Moulton, who wanted to show he was right in his general position, and who remarked that he "would make it hotter than hell" for any one who would testify against him.

This witness was not cross-examined.

Testimony of Henry M. Cleveland.

Henry M. Cleveland was the next witness, and testified that on June 2, 1873, Mr. Beecher called on him at the Christian Union office between eleven and twelve o'clock; remained about forty minutes, and ordered that his mail be sent to Boston; Mr. Beecher did not preach in his church on the following Sunday, but was present at the Friday prayer meeting succeeding that on the 30th of June, 1873. I remember the publication of a card by Beecher, and saw him on the 25th of June at the house of Moses J. Beach; I suggested its publication to him on that day; after I made that suggestion Beecher went into Mr. Beach's library; when I was coming out I met Mr. Ford entering the house.

Cross-Examined.

On cross-examination Mr. Cleveland testified: I know Mr. Carpenter; I made his acquaintance on Sunday, the 25th of May, 1874; I went to see him at the request of Mr. Beecher; I was to bring him to Moulton's if I found him. The object in bringing him there was that Beecher said he wished to have Carpenter go see Bowen to confer with regard to some reports having reference to Beecher; Carpenter and I talked about the tripartite covenant.

Mr. Shearman objected to this line of testimony, and Mr. Morris said he proposed showing that Carpenter was brought over to Bowen's to threaten him with the publication of the tripartite agreement, if he did not stop repeating his stories.

A Threat.

Witness resumed: I told Carpenter if the stories were repeated, the agreement would be published; at the time of that conversation I knew Beecher's moral character was involved. I never talked with Beecher about the scandal, but did have a conversation with him about the Woodhull publication on November 1st, 1872; I knew that there were stories afloat affecting Beecher's moral character, which were settled in April, 1872, by covenant; these scandals afloat related to Beecher's immoral conduct with regard to woman; the covenant was published from the manuscript in the hands of Samuel Wilkeson; I understood from Beecher that Bowen had circulated stories affecting his moral character, and this was all that was said on the subject; I took the covenant to the office of the Times on May 29, for publication; I left it with Mr. Jones, because I knew there would be

and I wanted to set Mr. Beecher in a true position in the eyes of the press; I went there also to have an interview with Jones, but I do not recollect what I said; when I left it with the Times I knew it would be published. I did not say to Jones that Beecher wanted it published. Possibly I said to Carpenter if he would look in the papers next morning he would see the biggest sensation in the country since the war. I had conversations with the counsel about my testimony, and have conversed with them three or four times since I came from the country with reference to my evidence. The hour of the day at which I saw Beecher was not a topic of conversation. I have a partial recollection of being at the Times office that evening, but none of what took place. I either went there with John R. Howard or Mr. Ford, and if I did go, I suppose my visit was to see that the proofs were all correct. On the 25th of June Beecher mentioned names of gentlemen on whom he intended to call with regard to

and I was one. The names he suggested, as I recollect, were Sage, Claflin, Belcher, Hawkins and Shearman.

A recess was here taken, when the Court room was cleared and ventilated. The cross-examination of the morning was not rapid, Mr. Shearman insisting that the witness was being asked questions he had already answered, and Mr. Morris insisting he must get a satisfactory answer.

After the recess the cross-examination of Mr. Cleveland was continued. He testified: I saw Beecher in the afternoon of the 26th of June, 1874. I went to his house between 5 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. He beckoned to me from a car. I do not recollect stating on my former examination that I went there by invitation. I meant that he did not ask me, but that I went in consequence of the act. I do not think I testified that I did not see him before I went to the house. I mean that I had no conversation with him before I went to his house.

Mr. Shearman stated that he did not believe the stenographer's report was correct, and Mr. Morris replied that he was sure it was correct.

The witness continued: It is not true that I did not see Mr. Beecher before I went to his house that evening. Mr. Beecher named seven or eight persons in the afternoon to be appointed on a Committee of Investigation.

The names suggested were Sage, Storrs, Claflin, Judge Benedict, Deacon Hawkins, Mr. Garbit, and my name, I think, was mentioned in the evening. I cannot swear positively that there were any other names. I am not sure I have given the names of the persons I gave in the testimony at my house. The same names were given in the evening by Mr. Beecher. The name of Winslow was suggested by some person in the evening. I think I suggested him. It is true in fact that all these named were suggested to Beecher. In the afternoon Beecher named persons from his church and society, from whom he thought the committee could be selected.

Mr. Tracy objected to this question being repeated, as it had already been asked two or three times.

In the afternoon Beecher named these persons, and they were discussed in the evening meeting. The names of all the gentlemen named by Shearman and myself were discussed in the evening Beecher and Shearman took part in the discussion. I think I invited Shearman and General Tracy to come over in the evening, and I think Beecher and I talked about this in the afternoon. I am sure this took place on the 26th of June. Beecher desired to consult them.

One of the Topics to be discussed was the question of the appointment of a committee. Beecher gave no special reasons as to his object for consultation, except to obtain legal advice as to the investigation. I was not aware that General Tracy had that day published a card denying that he was counsel for Beecher. I was a member of the investigating committee and a personal friend of Mr. Beecher. I first heard of the charges to be investigated by that committee by common report. I had seen the Woodhull publication prior to that time. I had not seen Tilton about Beecher's relations to his wife. I became a member of the examining committee in 1874. I remember but have no distinct recollection of them. These charges were very generally discussed among the Plymouth people. I heard Mrs. Bradshaw was to be a witness in connection with these charges. I do not recollect when I first saw these charges, but my present impression is that I never read them until I saw them incorporated in Tilton's statement. During the summer of 1873 the West charges first came to my knowledge. The first conference of the committee was held on the 28th of June, and only four members were present. The first regular formal meeting for business was the 10th of July. The next meeting was on Monday night. All the members of the committee were present except White. The committee either organized that night or the one following. Ellenwood, the stenographer, was present that night. On Tuesday night I do not recollect who was present. I cannot recollect when the next meeting was. Five members of the committee met at Ovington's house July 8th. Mr. Ellingwood, the stenographer, was there, and all the members but White. Gen. Tracy was there.

The West Charges,

Mrs. Tilton's Statement.

Mrs. Tilton made a statement before them, and the stenographer took it down. I think July 6th was on Monday. I do not remember what time in the evening Mrs. Tilton's statement was taken. It has never been published. The stenographer gave the testimony taken to the committee, and it is now in the hands of the Examining Committee of the church. It was placed in the hands of the clerk, Thos. J. Shearman, to place in the hands of the Examining Committee.

Tilton Before the Church Committee.

On the 10th of July the Committee met at Mr. Augustus Storrs'. Theodore Tilton was before them that night, and remained one or two hours. I received a note from Mrs. Ovington that night. The note asked if Tilton was before the committee, and I returned an answer that he was. Tilton was before the committee when I received that note. I suppose it was the next morning that Mrs. Tilton left her home. Tilton was not present before the committee except when giving his testimony. Hill and Tracy attended these sessions of the committee. If I recollect aright, he summoned every witness Tilton named. We did not summon Bowen or Mrs. Moulton, because he did not name them. Mrs. Richards was named by him, and Mrs. Bradshaw. We summoned them before the committee. Mr. Richards was not examined. I do not know why he was not examined before that committee. I think my recollection of the reason he was not examined was because he before the committee. I do not remember that he said he would not testify in the case. I cannot recollect if Richards said his testimony did not bear on the investigation. I was at the White Mountains in September last. Mr. Beecher was there. I came through Boston on my way home. I went there to see Redpath in response to a telegram from him, and Gov. Claflin, of Massachusetts. Mr. Beecher knew my object in going there. I went to Boston at Beecher's request, with a written power to act in his behalf. [Shown a paper.] That is the paper I took.

Mr. Morris read the paper, dated September 4th, 1874, appointing Cleveland Mr. Beecher's representative, to have all powers in relation to matters relating to the scandal, and giving him power to sign all papers necessary. The document was signed "Henry Ward Beecher."

Moulton's Participation in the Scandal.

I do not know that it referred to any other thing, but it was given to me as my credentials to Redpath to hear what he had to say. I was requested to see what he had to say about Beecher growing out of telegraphic correspondence.

Dr. James L. Little on the Stand.

Mr. Cleveland here left the stand, but his cross-examination was not completed, and Dr. James L. Little was called. He testified: I reside in Forty-second street, and was living in Brooklyn in 1862. I know the parties to this suit. I knew Tilton for two years, and I saw him at Plymouth church. I saw Tilton at the Communist procession in New York in a carriage with Miss Claflin. Mrs. Woodhull was in front of the procession. I saw the procession at Thirty-fourth street and Sixth avenue.

Cross-Examined.

This was an open carriage, and I do not remember that there were more than two persons in it. They were sitting on the back seat. The procession was moving down Thirty-fourth street to Sixth avenue, and I stood on the sidewalk until it passed. The lady with Tilton was pointed out to me as Miss Claflin. There was a lady on foot in front of the procession, who was pointed out to me as Mrs. Woodhull. There was a gentleman alongside of her, and she carried a red flag. I was introduced to Tilton several times, the last time being when we were at Plymouth church. I remember but one carriage in that procession.

Re-direct Examination.

I did not know the women pointed out to me as Miss Claflin and Mrs. Woodhull.

Witness was allowed to go, and the court adjourned.

THE ADVENTISTS.

Scenes at the Gathering in Chicago.

The Confidence of the Watchers—How they Spent the Waiting Hours—The Exultation and Subsequent Overwhelming Disappointment—A Strange Spectacle.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

The Adventists assembled at Seven Hall early on Monday evening, and so well did they evade curiosity that their location was not discovered, so that they were not annoyed by attempts to intrude nor by disorder outside, as would have been the case had they remained on Desplaines street. The hall was in the third story, and was a large and well-lighted apartment, sufficiently accommodating them. Long tables were arranged so as to inclose a square, and on these was spread, consisting of boiled mutton, apple, custard, and cranberry pie, apples and oranges, good red wine, and a large quantity of "unleavened bread," composed of sheets of cracker-bread. At the head of the hall to the east was a sort of rustic canopy, arranged with evergreens and other sorts of foliage, which was there when they secured the hall. Beneath this, and raised upon a dais so as to elevate him above the rest, sat Elder Thurman. There were about 150 in all present, quite a number being children. Several of the women carried babes at their bosoms. The sexes were divided, the men sitting to the left and the women to the right of Elder Thurman. In the square inclosed by the tables were the basins, ewers, and towels used in the ceremony of feet-washing.

The Thunder Storm

which came up early in the evening, and which brought such dismay to many who were secretly perturbed, carried the assemblage to an ecstatic pitch of feeling. They eagerly peered through the windows, and became jubilant as the storm swept along and the lightnings flashed. Their joy waxed intense and confident as, after the first overshadowing of the gathering clouds, a peculiar yellow radiance was diffused through the air, and lit up the earth, even while the rain poured down in sheets. This confirmed their faith, inasmuch as it seemed that night was not to prevail, in accordance with the texts:

The Lord my God shall come * * * and it shall come to pass that the light shall not be clear nor dark, but it shall be one day, which shall be known to the Lord, not day nor night; but it shall come to pass that at evening-time it shall be light.—Zach. xiv., 5-7.

For as the lightning cometh out of the east and shineth even unto the west, so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be.—Matthew xxiv., 27.

The seemingly literal fulfillment of these texts filled the Adventists with ineffable joy.

A Miraculous Cure.

While the storm was going on a woman asked Elder Thurman to heal her of a neuralgia complaint. Laying his hands on her head in a reverent way, he said: "I say unto you in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, be thou made whole." And immediately, according to the woman's profession, the pain left her, and she began praising God.

At 8 o'clock, the table being set and all made ready, they sat down. In all their doings Thurman and his followers have aimed to copy the example of Christ with as literal exactness as may be. They keep the Passover, on the 14th of the first month of every Hebrew year. They obtain their ceremonial for the Lord's Supper by taking the Scriptures in the same literal way. The first exercise in order was that of "Feet Washing," in which Elder Thurman led off, washing the feet of his neighbor, and so it went around—the Elder meanwhile accompanying the service with rhapsodical harangues. The proceedings, however, were conducted with solemnity.

After the feet washing,

The Supper Began.

To persons of good appetite, the coming of mealtime is cheering and enlivening. As the ceremonies antecedent to the supper had reached until after 9, the Adventists were pretty hungry, and fell to with a good will. Little children who had fallen asleep during the foregoing exercises awoke, and betook themselves to active exertion, and the assembly put on a picnic appearance. So singular a spectacle will hardly occur again. On the one side were women ranging in age from the white-haired grandame verging on 80 to girls of 8 and 10; on the other, men of all ages down to boys and striplings. There were baskets, shawls, and coats heaped in the corners of the room, and in the centre were the towels and baisins that had been used in the feet washing. A literal obedience was given to the text: "Let your conversation be of Heaven." The glories of the New Jerusalem were spoken of with ardent longing, and continual reference made to the tremendous events which they believed soon would occur. All were attacked by a sympathetic excitement of feeling that manifested itself in trembling impatience of manner, and anxious peerings into the night to discover the signs of Christ's coming. In all that company, even including the little children, there was no one unaffected by the flood of emotion, except the reporter, a solitary Pagan among true believers.

It was with great depression of manner that, after the appetites of those present had been satisfied, Elder Thurman rose up and, after blessing the bread, broke it and carried pieces from one to another, as in administering the Holy Communion in other religious bodies.

Under the nineteenth head—"Some interesting conversation with those who love Jesus"—each, beginning with the men sitting to the left of Elder Thurman, rose, and made some remarks. They were all characterized by a tone of depression and a nervous assertion of continued faith, the gasping vehemence of the statement showing how hard the struggle was to bolster up belief against the disappointment in not receiving any sign or indication of Christ's advent. When it came to it was not yet 12 o'clock, but despair was visible on his face, and his voice was deep and solemn. He began by speaking of the ardent longings he had cherished for the coming of Christ. Even if he himself were lost he wanted to see God's elect. His voice fell into the measured sing-song in which he intones his prayers, and became inexpressibly mournful as he went on.

"I confess that I begin to feel sad, and my heart sinks within me. I have no time fixed at which I expect to see the Lord except midnight. But I did expect that He would appear at Jerusalem when it was 4 o'clock in the afternoon here, and then I expected the sign of the Son of Man. I will not despair to the rising sun, but how can I extend the prophetic dates longer than midnight I cannot see. It has been my study for thirty-two years, and, again and again, and yet again, have I have examined all the prophecies to see whether there could be any mistake, but I could find none. And again to-day I took my Bible and tried to see whether by any possibility the prophecies might extend for a day longer, but they all point to this day." He continued in this strain for some time standing with his head bowed, and with his countenance as unchanging in expression as if he was the mere passive medium through which some exterior intelligence was communicating.

The Great Disappointment.

He seemed stupefied by the greatness of the disappointment. While he was speaking sobs and groans went up continually from the assemblage. Many of the women were weeping bitterly. Many of the little ones, wearied with the protracted vigil, were asleep lying on the shawls and wrappings that had been placed in the corner. The men looked wistful and sad, but it was not yet 12, and some hope still lay in the narrow circuit that the minute hand of the clock had yet to traverse. A tall, gray-haired man begun to speak in a tone of encouragement, and expressing the love and veneration which they all cherished for Brother Thurman. Thurman, who, in his desolation, still kept on by sheer inertia in the groove in which he had moved along, announced mechanically—"And when they had sung a hymn," thus indicating the time when it was necessary to sing in order to imitate the Last Supper of Christ. The hymn, "Long we've been waiting for Christ to come," was then sung in a dolorous way. The clock still lacked a minute or two of 12, and it was watched as a criminal might watch the approach of the hour of his execution.

The Minute Hand Touched Twelve, and a deep groan ran through the assembly. The disappointment seemed to strike into Thurman's heart far too deep for tears. There was self-abasement in his manner as he rose, and in the same monotonous intonation, but with a tremulous voice, said:

"Brethren, lean on my arm no longer. My reckoning is all up. I leave you in the hands of God. It is as much as I can do to struggle on for myself. I will try to do the best I can. If there is any more light to be had I will search for it. I bid you farewell."

Then followed a pitiful scene. Women wrung their hands in bitter anguish; strong men buried their faces and wept and groaned. The violent descent from ecstatic joy to terrible disappointment, bruised and crushed their spirits. Thurman sat still and murmuring, as if dazed and stupified with the greatness of his calamity. The work of his lifetime had fallen suddenly to nothingness. The firm footing of his faith had suddenly slipped from under him, and the horrors of darkness encompassed him. Of different calibre than his followers, his grief could not find vent in demonstration of feeling, and nothing assuaged the bitterness of disappointment. Some of them tried to say kind and comforting things to him, but he seemed to heed nothing. Still adhering to the programme as the fixed thing that yet remained to him, he rose to pronounce

The Benediction.

Continuing with a tremulous voice he said: Oh Lord, we came according to Thy word. Hast Thou not said that "in the time appointed the end shall be?" O Holy Parent, hear the prayers of Thy people. Come, O Lord Jesus, come quickly. All will come to desolation unless Thou return again. We have taken Thy word in all the simplicity of little children. We have tried to do our duty. O Jesus, Thou knowest our hearts, that we have tried to do Thy will. We can do no more. We give ourselves into Thy hands saying, "Lord save or I perish."

He then sat down again in moody silence, while his followers went on groaning and weeping.

The Scenes

attendant upon the break-up of the meeting baffle description. With the tears rolling down their cheeks, they sang the hymn:

Jesus, I my cross have taken
All to leave and follow Thee;
Naked, poor, despised, forsaken,
Thou, from hence, my all shall be.

They wept and fell on one another's necks. Many of them did not know where to go or what to do, as they had relinquished their lodgings, and given away their furniture and everything. In the extremity of their distress, their affections still clung to Thurman. The men all came to him and gave him the kiss of peace, according to their fashion. One of them pressed him to come and stay with him. Thurman said, sadly: "I don't feel like seeing anybody now. I wish I could sink into my grave." The women gathered around him, and he shook hands with them, for Thurman varies from ministerial usage by never kissing the women, reserving that entirely for the men. A number of people had to remain where they were. Others went to the houses of those who were fortunate enough to retain homes. One man named Miller, who had disposed of over $6,000 worth of property, asked permission of a brother to sleep on his floor that night. An old whitehaired woman said that she had a place to go to to-night, but what she should do next God only knew. The children were crying, babies squalling, and women wringing their hands in anguish, as at about half past one the assembly dispersed, pursuing their melancholy way to such quarters as they could go to.

Charges for Handling Grain.

The Committee of the State Senate, appointed to inquire into the charges for handling grain at this point, met in the Produce Exchange to-day, the largest number of the members of the Exchange being present. Mr. Hazleton testified that the grain arriving at this point is subject to the following charges:

First—towing to and from the place of delivery, twelve dollars, paid by consignee; second—unloading of canal boat, paid by the captain or owner of the boat, three-fourths cents per bushel; third—weighing cargo, paid equally by the consignee and purchaser, three-fourths cent per bushel; fourth—if grain go into store or warehouse there is no extra charge for thirty days. For every additional day beyond thirty days, there is a charge of one-fourth cent per bushel.

Turf Matters.

Pierre Lorillard has scratched Attilla out of all his engagements, and Vivian in the Withers, ladies and other stakes. Francis Morris has scratched Tomahawk and the Leamington. Relentless colt out of the Withers, Belmont, Jersey, Derby and Travers stakes. The Relentless colt was heavily backed in the books. Morris had a large amount of money on him.

Convention of Fire Underwriters.

The ninth annual Convention of the National Board of Fire Underwriters begun to-day. Fifty companies were represented. The Treasurer's report shows the receipts from all sources to be $100,004. The expenditures were $102,191, leaving a balance due by the Board of $2,186. President Oakley then delivered his annual address.

The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the executive committee be empowered to hereafter offer rewards for the apprehension of incendiaries, whether the authorities should see fit to do so or not.

A Nominee for President.

The Lincoln Club, which received ex-Speaker Blaine a week or so ago, last night gave a reception to Congressman Lawson, whose speech urged the Republican party to nominate Senator Conkling for President.

LOUISVILLE.

Railroad War—Cutting Down Rates.

LOUISVILLE, April 22.—The Southern Railroad lines have not up to date joined in the general war among the Northern roads. It having been announced to-day that the New Orleans & Mobile Railroad, known as the Coast line to New York and Eastern cities, had cut its rates very largely, the Jackson route, in connection with the Louisville, Nashville & Great Southern, will announce to-morrow a reduction on rates to this city, Washington, Baltimore and New York, of from one-fifth to three-tenths of the regular rates. It is expected that the competing route will make still another reduction, to be followed by a further reduction by the Jackson route. The fight between the two lines promises to be a warm one.

OMAHA.

Arrival of a Delayed Railway Train—Preparations for the June Races.

OMAHA, NEB., April 22.—A large train of delayed passengers, mails, &c., arrived to-day from the West. Although a train will probably leave here to-morrow, no through passengers have yet left westward.

Arrangements are completed for a meeting of the Driving Park Association here on June 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th. Prizes to the amount of $5,000 will be given. For 2:30 trotting horses, $800; for running, $500. First day, 2:50 trotting, $600; all pacers $200. Second day—2:40 horses, $600; 3 minute horses, $600. Third day—free to all—trotters, $1,200; running, $500. Fourth day—National and Laclede rules.

SECOND EDITION

FROM WASHINGTON.

Resignation of Attorney General Williams.

A Statement by Secretary Delano.

The President Did Not Request Him to Resign.

WASHINGTON, April 22, 1875.

Resignation of Attorney General Williams.

Attorney General Williams to-day tendered to the President the resignation of his office, to take effect on the 15th of May. The resignation has not yet been accepted, and therefore no person has been named as his successor. Intimate friends of Judge Williams say he designs returning to Oregon and entering into the contest for United States Senator from that State.

It is believed Secretary Bristow will be appointed Attorney General in place of Williams.

Secretary Delano

returned to Washington this evening, and received calls of many prominent friends, who were anxious to learn whether there was any foundation for the report that the President had requested him to resign his office on account of alleged corruption in or concerning the Department of the Interior. He stated in conversation to-night that last fall he notified the President that it was his intention to retire from the Cabinet, as he wished to devote himself to private affairs in Ohio, but the President requested him to remain in the Cabinet as long as he could conveniently do so. In accordance with this expressed desire of the President, Delano relinquished his purpose of immediately retiring from the Department, having merely deferred his resignation, however, until the 1st of the present month. Shortly after the close of the special session of the Senate he went to Ohio for the purpose of arranging his private affairs preliminary to tendering his resignation, and did not return here until Wednesday evening of last week, but had no opportunity to converse with the President prior to the departure of the latter for Concord the following morning. The Secretary was detained in Washington throughout Thursday, hearing the arguments in the quadruplex telegraph case, but joined the Presidential party in New York the next day, expecting to have a private opportunity during the trip to Boston to converse with the President and again request to be relieved of his position as Secretary of the Interior. No such opportunity was afforded, on account of the President's time being occupied with committees of arrangements and others. While in New England, the President and members of the Cabinet became separated, and it was not until the party were returning from Boston to New York that the subject was brought up by the Postmaster General handing to Delano a newspaper containing the statement that the President had requested his resignation. The President expressed surprise that such a statement should be made, and remarked to another member of his Cabinet that he had never made any such request, directly or indirectly.

Mr. Delano positively states this evening that the President has not, either in writing or verbally, requested his resignation, or given him reason to suppose that any complaints or charges have been made affecting the integrity of the Interior Department or his administration of its affairs. In response to a question whether he now intended to carry out his original purpose of resigning, Delano made no definite reply.

The President was also interrogated to-day as to the truth of the statement that he had requested Delano to resign, and gave to it an emphatic contradiction.

The Proposed Canal Across the Isthmus.

Francis W. Rice, formerly United States Consul at Aspinwall and Acapulco, has addressed a letter from his residence at Saco, Maine, to Secretary Robeson, in relation to the report that Commander Lull seems to favor the Nicaragua to the Panama route for a canal to connect the Atlantic with the Pacific ocean. Mr. Rice says, after a residence of eighteen years on the Isthmus, eight of which were passed as United States Consul, he can speak of Panama as more healthy than Nicaragua, and adds: With as favorable conditions for living, either country is as healthy as Vermont or New Hampshire.

Mr. Rice concludes his letter by saying the Panama route would be six hundred to seven hundred miles nearer than the proposed Nicaragua route, to the great cities and rich trade of the South Pacific.

Appointments.

The President has appointed the following postmasters: Frederick G. Harris, at Lockport, Ills.; Michael C. Garber, Madison, Ind.; and David D. Taylor, Cambridge, Ohio.

A Denial.

The report that the President has requested the resignation of Secretary Delano, even by intimation, is positively denied at the Executive Mansion.

HARRISBURG.

The Contemplated Investigation of the State Treasury—Treasurer Mackey Refuses to Permit An Examination by the Legislative Committee, but Will Allow Them to Do So as Members of the Legislature—They Withdraw for Consultation.

Special to Pittsburgh Gazette.

HARRISBURG, April 22, 1875.

The sub-committee of the House of Representatives to investigate the State Treasury met at the office of the State Treasurer to-day at three o'clock, and were informed by State Treasurer Mackey that as members of the Legislature they were at liberty to make an investigation to satisfy themselves and the public as to the integrity of the Treasury, on condition if they found the Treasury intact they would give him a certificate to that effect. He denied their right as a committee, and would not allow any outside party designated by the committee to make an examination. The chairman said they could only act as a committee, and withdrew for consultation. N.

ST. PAUL.

Curious Contest Between Counsel in a Murder Case.

ST. PAUL, April 22.—In the trial to-day of Michael Keely for the murder of Barney Lamb, a curious contest between the counsel for the defendant occurred. A witness on the stand swore that he was intimately acquainted with Lamb, the murdered man. At this point Mr. Erwin, counsel for the defense, asked the witness to state what was the character of Lamb as to being peaceable, or the reverse. This was objected to by the State. General Gorman, associate counsel for the defense, interrupted Mr. Erwin, and stated that what he was arguing was not the law, and if he (Erwin) should take that view of the law, he (Gorman) should very much prefer he should not enunciate it till this case was over. The Court: "You can settle this among yourselves." [Laughter.] After half an hour's skirmishing the objection was sustained.

WHEELING.

The Strike in the Nail and Iron Mills Extending.

WHEELING, W. VA., April 22.—About all the nail feeders employed in the mills here are now on a strike, except those of the La Belle Mills, and they are expected to join the strike on Saturday. The nailers feed their own machines and keep the mills running short handed. The helpers' strike is still extending from mill to mill, and the boilers, like the nailers, are doing their own work, though with less production.

CORRY, PA.

Destructive Fire—Loss $50,000.

CORRY, PA., April 22.—Crosby's block, including the dry goods store of Mulkie & Clark, a billiard saloon and numerous lawyers' and other offices, were burned this morning. The total loss is $50,000.

UTAH.

The Railway Blockade—Additional Washouts on the Union Pacific Road.

SALT LAKE, Utah, April 22.—The Union Pacific Railroad is still blockaded east. No mails have arrived here from the East since April 13. A train was expected here this evening, but owing to another washout in Weber Canon it is doubtful if it arrives to-night. This train contains passengers and mails transferred by wagons for several miles on Bitter Creek, and has been five days on the way from Green River, having been delayed by numerous washouts. The streams are all high and rising. The weather continues warm. A report from Green River this morning says the track east and west is in a bad condition, that the railroad company have about four hundred men at work repairing the track east of there, and about twenty teams for making a transfer of seven miles. They will get the track repaired in about twenty days. Still another washout is reported this evening near Church Buttes, and an engine and two cars were ditched. This washout trouble extends from Ogden, Utah, to Rocky Springs, Wyoming, a distance of two hundred miles.

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 22.—A letter to the Valley Times, dated San Diego, Neuces county, Texas, the 20th, says on the 17th Julian Rita and son were murdered one mile from Colovaros, on the road leading to Pass Incho. The family of the deceased was about half a mile off at the time, and saw the parties riding away who committed the deed. The laredo rider, Manuel Paredo, was robbed on the road this side of Coso Marado.

Rancheros are moving into town. Traveling is about stopped. Business is very much depressed. From reliable information, almost every ranche not burned is crowded by armed Mexicans, fifty to sixty at some, for what purpose is not known; and how many more doubtful characters are concealed in the thick chapparel, which affords a safe retreat, it is hard to say. The crisis is close at hand.

TEXAS

Mexican Raids Near Tiocona—Americans Killed by "Greasers"—Complaints Against Gen. Cortinas' Acts—Traveling Almost Stopped—Lively Times Anticipated.

GALVESTON, April 22.—The News' special from Brownsville of to-day says: Yesterday Juan M. Longria, Magistrate of Precinct Number 3, sent a note to H. Klohn, Presiding Justice of this county, stating that a party of armed Mexicans were near Tiocona, collecting cattle and committing depredations. They drove the herdsmen out of the ranche. Longria asked for help. His letter was referred to Gen. Potter. He was of the opinion that Lieut. Leggett would be on the spot and attend to the matter. Leggett commands the escort sent with Stillman.

Geo. Hill was killed by a band of eight raiders on the 16th inst. He was hunting horses, and about dusk went to a water hole, where they camped with a drove of stolen cattle. Troops were watching for them below Rucias' ranche. The raiders crossed into Mexico below them.

A difficulty exists between Geo. Labberra, collector of customs at Matamoras, and General Cortinas. Laberra sent a letter to President Lerdo complaining of Cortinas' acts. It was referred to the Secretary of War, and he forwarded it to Cortinas. The latter speaks of suing Laberra for slander, damages, and so on.

Dr. Lovell was killed at Carriza Redmond's ranche on the 19th inst. by a band of raiders from Mexico.

LOUISIANA.

Legislative Proceedings—A Court of Impeachment for the Trial of Auditor Clinton—A Relief Bill for New Orleans Passed by the House.

NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—The Senate passed on second reading a joint resolution suspending Auditor Clinton from office pending the impeachment trial. It will come up on third reading and final passage to-morrow.

The Senate resolved itself into a Court of impeachment to impeach Charles Clinton of high crimes and misdemeanors in office, and notified the House of their action; also appointed a committee to prepare rules to govern the Senate when sitting as a court of impeachment.

The Senate received a communication from Clinton, praying for a further examination of his books by experts. No action was taken.

The vote on taking up the Clinton impeachment resolution in the Senate to-day was yeas 22 nays 10. Gov. Kellogg was on the floor of the Senate again to-day, endeavoring to save Clinton.

The House passed a joint resolution to extend the extra session to May 5th—yeas 62, nays 15. The House passed the City Relief bill, authorizing the city to hypothecate and lease city property; also to lease the city water works for forty years, payable in city obligations of any kind; also authorizing the Council to make arrangements with bondholders.

FROM EUROPE.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Proceedings of Parliament.

LONDON, April 22.—In the House of Commons this evening Sullivan announced that for the purpose of terminating the anomalous relations between the press and the House, he would nightly call attention to the presence of strangers. This will have the effect of compelling the withdrawal of all persons except members.

FRANCE.

Commemorating Captain Hall's Arctic Exploits.

PARIS, April 22.—The President of the French Geographical Society has handed Minister Washburne a gold medal, presented by the society to the family of Capt. Hall in commemoration of the exploits of the Arctic explorer.

BELGIUM.

The Duchesne Conspiracy Trial.

BRUSSELS, April 22.—The examination into the alleged Duchesne conspiracy against Prince Bismarck began to-day. The prisoner, Duchesne, thrice refused to give the names of his accomplices.

AMONG OUR MILLS.

Items of Interest to Workers Everywhere.

(From the American Manufacturer.)

THE majority of Pittsburgh's puddling furnaces are again aglow, at $5.50 per ton when bar iron is 2½ cents per lb.

THERE is every probability that a first-class furnace will be added to the list of Pittsburgh blast furnaces during the present year.

EVERSON, GRAFF & MACRUM, of the Pennsylvania Iron works, have just put in a new squeezer and a new train of three-high rolls.

JONES, INGOLD & CO. have their new crucible steel works at McKean station, near McKeesport, nearly completed, and will begin to melt about the 1st prox.

MEN have been at work for some time at the Edgar Thomson Bessemer Steel-works getting everything ready for starting. It is expected that the first rail will be made about the 1st of July.

MULLEN & MALONEY, who purchased the old Eagle mill some months ago, are repairing the boilers and machinery and will have the mill in working condition in a few weeks. These works have not been in operation for about two years.

THE rolling mill of McKnight & Co., which had been idle before the lock out, on account of the firm becoming bankrupt, has been leased by Byers, McCullough & Co., and will be put in operation next week. This mill has twenty-two puddling furnaces and gives employment, in all departments, to 150 workmen.

THE old puddlers have not gone to work at the mills of Spang, Chalfant & Co., Clark & Co., Carnegie Brothers & Co., Graff, Bennett & Co.'s Millvale mill, and the Pittsburgh Bolt works. They demand that the proprietors discharge the puddlers employed during the strike; which they will not do. At the latter works some twenty or more furnaces are operated by colored puddlers.

THE year's business of the Zanesville blast furnace and rolling mill makes the following show: Raw material, stone coal, 45,209 tons; coke 10,503 tons; iron ores of all kinds, 30,494 tons; mill cinders, 4,115 tons; limestone, 14,012 tons; sandstone, 946 tons; fire clay, 622 tons; cut and wrought scrap, 485 tons; total, 106,386 tons; pig metal manufactured into bar iron, 8,654 tons; grand total, 115,039 tons.

THE status of the Pittsburgh blast furnaces is as follows: Eliza—No. 1 out, No. 2 blowing; Superior—both out of blast and sadly out of repair, and likely to remain so indefinitely; Clinton—blowing; Lucy—blowing; Isabella—No. 1 just blown out and No. 2 blown in; Shoenberger—both out; Soho—about commencing to blow. Of the 11 furnaces, therefore, 5 are blowing and six are out. Two are making Bessemer and the others common iron.

THE Charleston (W. Va.) Courier says: The Kanawha Iron Company left for record at the Clerk's office on Saturday a deed by which they became the owners of a large amount of real estate near this place. The transfer embraces 2,400 town lots on the lower side of Elk river opposite the corporate limits about 300 acres of front hills for building sites, about 1,200 acres of mineral and timber lands and an iron furnace according to certain plans and specifications finished complete and ready to go into blast—also the proceeds to be hereafter collected of about $60,000 of lots heretofore sold. The whole for the sum of $400,000.

THE LATEST NEWS.

Condensed Telegrams from All Quarters.

—Gen. W. T. Sherman and wife are in Cincinnati, to attend the wedding of Miss Phillips and Chas. Leamen.

—Eight stables of horses are now in Galveston, Texas, training for the races which commence on Tuesday, the 27th.

—John Harper, senior member of the firm of Harper Bros., publishers, of New York, died on Thursday evening, after a prolonged illness, in the seventy-ninth year of his age.

—Dispatches from Denver, Colorado, state that the injunction obtained upon the Dives mine by the owners of the Pelecan mine has just been dissolved by Chief Justice Hallett.

—A Detroit dispatch says the ice is broken up from Old Point, Mackinaw, to Lake Michigan, but has not yet moved out. Open water is in sight from McGulfin's Point, from Old Mackinaw, to Duncan Light. The ice is solid.

—The war of low rates between Cincinnati and St. Louis ends to-day. The managers of the roads interested have agreed on nine dollars and a half, which is half a dollar less than the former rate, and one dollar and a half greater than the rate fixed at the Passenger Agents' Convention held in March.

POTTSVILLE.

Meeting of Miners—The Strike to be Continued.

POTTSVILLE, PA., April 22.—At a large meeting of delegates of the Miners and Laborers Association here to-day, there was an almost unanimous vote to continue the strike.

The Steamer Edgar Stuart Condemned.

BALTIMORE, April 22.—In the United States District Court, to-day, in the case of the United States against the steamer Edgar Stuart, Judge Giles rendered a decision condemning the vessel and decreeing her forfeited to the United States, on the ground that while enrolled in the coastwise trade, she had left New London fully equipped and destined for a foreign port, which act rendered her clearly liable to forfeiture.

Be Wise in time—Go To-day—Bargains Yet in Store—The Great Jewelry Sale.

There is a tremedious rush for the bargains that are now being had at the great auction sale of jewelry at the store of Geo. Crawford & Co No. 82 Fifth avenue. This sale is without a parallel in this city, since the goods offered for sale are not of the class usually produced at auction sales, not being soiled damaged or unsalable, but fresh, and of extra good quality. Yet, notwithstanding their excellence, they are being sold at prices but little beyond what is usually had for inferior and counterfeit jewelry. But should they sell for ten per cent. of their cost, they must go, as the proprietors are determined to close out every article.

FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 1875.

BONDS at Frankfort 98¼.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 29f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114⅞@115.

IT is positively denied that Delano has tendered his resignation.

ATTORNEY GENERAL WILLIAMS has tendered his resignation to the President. He purposes to enter the contest for the United States Senator for Oregon.

THE Democratic press have been furnished ammunition by an absconding revenue collector in Florida. His deficiency is put at $168,428. He absconded.

THE declaration is officially made by the Washington Republican that at the proper time the President will settle the Third Term question. It is intimated that he will distinctly repudiate all desire or expectation of a third term.

IT IS stated that the Pennsylvania Railroad and lines between Philadelphia and the West have arranged to run a fast train to Kansas City on a time table which requires but forty-five hours for the journey West and forty-eight hours for the trip East. Palace and sleeping cars are attached.

IT seems to us that there is an unnecessary anxiety relative to the selection of delegates to the State Convention. Whether the Committee or the Primaries select will make but little difference. The nomination for Governor is assured, and that for State Treasurer does not command the most intense interest in this county. The delegates, in any event, will be likely to favor the best man, which is what is desired.

A BODY of ministers at Chicago have solemnly protested against the extravagances of modern funerals. It is affirmed that custom has added to the expensiveness of such occasions, and that much of this is due to absurdities that can be dispensed with. To the end that economy may be developed, it is proposed by the Chicago clergy that each church have a vault, in which the remains may be placed at the close of the funeral services, and afterward quietly interred. Also, to have the remains borne to the church or vault without the usual procession. There can be no doubt that much useless extravagance may be lopped off in this way.

THE Philadelphia Press devotes an editorial to the enumeration of reasons why Governor Hartranft should be renominated. It is the usage of the party to give a second term; he has earned it; he is a soldier, and rendered good service in the army; and finally has experience. On this point, the Press observes: "The Governor has generally been forced to call into his confidence, as advisers, men outside of those provided for him by the Constitution. The next Governor may stand in a very embarrassing position in this regard. The November elections have given him a Cabinet partially Democratic, while the late Constitutional Convention has enlarged their powers and position. These new officers may have power to embarrass or hamper the Executive, and at such a crisis as this we want to take no risks under the untried workings of a new document. Our domestic troubles in the coal regions bring the reflection home with power at this very moment. We want an experienced Executive at the helm of the Commonwealth for the next few years, and no new hand, however promising or respectable."

THE enemies of Dr. Kenealy seem determined that he shall be persecuted into popularity and success. A libel suit is the latest development,—the non-success attending it being the inspiration to an ovation on the part of a crowd assembled outside the court-room. Kenealy is essentially a demagogue, yet he has a firm hold on the masses, chiefly because he is regarded as a persecuted man. He is, however, a man of ability, and he knows that to identify himself with the masses is the sure road to success. He has not, yet, proposed measures in Parliament, in the interest of the working classes who worship him, but he has repelled measures that were designed to oppress them. His negative representation of them, while positively fighting his own battles, has been accepted as valuable service. To persecute such a person is to promote his interests, and increase his popularity. Hence his enemies seem likely to yet make of him a leader of the people, and head of a strong party, without so much as an effort on his part. The absurdity of such a course does not seem to be at all understood in England. In this country such a person could not rise, as no one would fight him because of his opinions, and without this, much of his capital would be gone. In England, however, he may yet punish his enemies to his full satisfaction.

WE ARE in receipt of a pamphlet copy of the address delivered by President Garrett, of the Baltimore and Ohio Road, at the meeting of his Board of Directors, where the report of expenses and earnings of the road was submitted. Putting aside the part relating directly to the controversy with the Pennsylvania railroad, Mr. Garrett made two points that are in themselves just, and worthy of general notice. He states that when the Saratoga combination was urged upon him, he argued the viciousness of fast freight lines, expressed his conviction that they were vampires upon the railway system, and that their irregular and fraudulent action would interfere with the maintenance of reasonable and proper understandings in reference to freight rates. He also cordially agreed to the abolition of commission on freight and passengers, and to discarding middle men generally, believing that the public should have the lowest rates that railway companies could properly work for, and that there should be no parties intervening between the railways and the public. He also pointed to the vast increase of petroleum shipments from the port of Baltimore, as the result of low rates of freight on this article of commerce. President Garrett is evidently a good fighter, and Baltimore is certainly largely advertised and benefited by his conflicts.

A CENTENNIAL SUBJECT.

We incidentally mentioned a matter, a short time since which, we think, is deserving of attention. We refer the development of a plan whereby the colored people may worthily celebrate the Centennial. There is room for the finest artistic taste and skill, in providing such a display as will record the experiences of the colored race during the century. At its inception the slave trade, with its terrible middle passage, its horrible barbarities and immoralities, was in full strength. Public sentiment eventually grew to a point that led to the destruction of this traffic. There followed the barbarities of the cotton plantations,—the whipping post, the hard labor, the breaking up and sale of families, the slave auction block, the shackles. Eventually, public sentiment took cognizance of the condition of the slave, and under the agitations that followed, this was ameliorated. Then came the aspiration for, and the struggle after, liberty. Some of the heroes of that struggle still live. Having attained freedom, they labored, preached and lectured in developing a sentiment in behalf of freedom for all. Eventually it merged into a political issue, and abolition as an ultimate, and restriction as an immediate necessity, was formulated into a political axiom. Then came the election of Lincoln, the war, freedom, enfranchisement, and civil privileges. What shall properly typify all this, so that the successive stages of this wonderful history will impress those who visit the Centennial? To embody a statement of the facts in eloquent address is not enough. It is too ephemeral. What is needed is something that will appeal to the eye, and that will typify history, while addressing the æsthetic taste.

We have not heard that anything has been done looking toward the development of something that will properly illustrate the slave-history of the nation. While liberty was given under the stern ordeal of war, and amid the severest strife, it was gladly acclaimed by the nation, and swiftly incorporated into our organic law. Hence there was, in a sense, a willingness about the work of emancipation. The party in power at the time was committed to the doctrine of freedom, but hesitated lest it be considered rash, and because of constitutional difficulties. When, at last, the excuse of military necessity could be fairly offered, it was made use of, and in a day, the enslaved were free. The history involved covers three-quarters of a century, and more. It represents phases, each having its allotted period of time. It involves struggles, hopes, fears, misfortunes, bloodshed, and then sudden, absolute triumph. If these events are suitably commemorated, the display will constitute one of the most interesting features of the Centennial. And if this is done, no time should be lost. To plan the display, and prepare the material will involve all the time that now remains.

CONSERVATIVE PERFIDY.

It has been proven that the Democrats of Louisiana are incapable of adhering to an agreement, where some advantage, real or imaginary, tempts them to break it. The House has expelled four Republican members, and admitted as many Democrats, now that, under the Wheeler compromise, they are in the majority. The object aimed at is to secure a majority on joint ballot, so that, when the election of United States Senator comes on, they can control the result. The intense partisanship of that body has been further illustrated by the impeachment of the State Auditor, without permitting him a hearing. In brief, the Democrats no sooner feel themselves in power than they resort to high-handed measures to secure the full control of State affairs. The full weight of the perfidy practiced in expelling four members of the House can only be seen by referring comprehensively to the history of the case.

The canvass by the Returning Board, which determines who are entitled to seats in the Legislature, gave the original organization of the House to the Republicans by one or two majority, with four places unfilled,—these being understood to be in doubt, and therefore remanded to the House for determination. When Wiltz captured the organization, he filled these places and one other vacancy—five in all, with Democrats; but when he and his followers left, and what has been called the Hahn Legislature was organized, the five places referred to were filled with Republicans,—the absentee, a Republican, taking his seat, leaving four vacancies to be filled. This was the Legislature whose legality was disputed, and to rectify which the compromise was proposed. The compromise referred the entire organization of the Legislature to a committee of the House of Congress, limited the scope of powers to be exercised by the newly constituted Legislature, and was agreed to in advance by both parties. This Committee, after carefully sifting the election returns, unseated several Republicans in the House and one in the Senate, and filled their places with Democrats. Those unseated had been returned elected by the Returning Board, yet they quietly gave up their places, and allowed the Democrats to come in. It was expressly agreed, that excepting the changes thus made, no other changes were to be made, except to fill vacancies caused by death or resignation. The Democrats could afford to make this concession, as it gave them power,—and the Republicans were generous in doing it, as they gave up power. Yet in the face of the award, and of the agreement made, the Democrats have ousted four Republican members. It is an act of perfidy.

The apology made is false and insufficient. The claim is that the men excluded were not returned by the Returning Board. Neither were Democrats returned. The districts have been uniformly Republican, and hence in a case of doubt, the probabilities are in favor of Republicans having been elected. But all this aside, and the fact remains that the compromise fixed the representation, and the agreement to abide by it was so positive and absolute that no excuse can palliate the obvious crime that has been perpetrated. This and the sudden and illegal impeachment of the State Auditor shows the true spirit of the Democracy in Louisiana. They could not possibly have had power, except by the concession of the Republicans. They accepted it under limitations they were bound in honor to observe. Important legislation, affecting the financial welfare of the State is neglected, and the material interests of the Commonwealth are left uncared for, while they mature their plans and launch a political conflict that must certainly convulse the State. It shows more clearly than anything else possibly could, the spirit that animates them. It proves that the disturbances from which Louisiana has suffered in the past are not of Republican, but Democratic origin. It shows that peace cannot be had there, till Republicans take affairs firmly in hand, sustained by the Federal Government.

One feature of the compromise entered into was an agreement on the part of the Democrats that they would vote supplies, and aid to give effect to the Kellogg Government, to the end of the term of the present Governor. This they have utterly neglected to do. No legislation for the support of the Government has been effected in the House, and it looks very much as though the expulsion of Republican members, and the impeachment of the Auditor were designed to raise an issue to blind the eyes of the people to the fact that other portions of the compromise have been disregarded. In brief, the Democracy have secured certain advantages by false promises,—agreements made only to be broken. It is fairly a question whether, failing to keep their part of the compromise, the compact is dissolved, and hence the Republicans freed from all obligations to carry out their part. In such an event, they may restore the situation as it was before the compromise was entered into. This would involve the expulsion of all the Democrats admitted under the compromise, and the prosecution of legislation without reference to them. We do not advise this,—yet we insist that would not be morally wrong. A compact is binding only so far as both parties observe it.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

LITTLE CLASSICS. "Comedy." Edited by Rossiter Johnson. Published by James R. Osgood & Co., Boston. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

This is the ninth volume of this elegant series of choice selections from the best authors. The names of Lover, Thackeray, Hewitt, Reade, Galt, Smith and Ferguson, appear in connection with the eight selections contained in the book, and some of the choicest specimens of the styles of these writers are thus given. The "Little Classics" series is an eminent success.

NATURE AND LIFE; Facts and Doctrines relating to the constitution of matter, the new dynamics, and the philosophy of nature. By Fernand Papillon, translated from the second French edition by A. R. McDonough, Esq. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York.

This is a remarkable book, in two respects; first in regard to the amount of research it displays, and second in the power of packing the nformation gained by a mind of rare culture and breadth of thought, into such a small compass. There is not a page in the book which is not crowded with healthful and inspiring thought and fact, and yet there is no dealing in technical terms—all is as plain, almost, as a child's story book. It is a fascinating volume, and one which will give many an hour of enjoyment to the thoughtful reader and willing learner.

SPAIN AND THE SPANIARDS; by N. L. Shieblin. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston.

Mr. Shieblin was a correspondent and a writer who had a journalist's training. He went to Spain with his eyes and ears open, and he tells in this book what he saw,—and tells it too in a charming way. His style is graceful and forcible, and he is master of the art of descriptive writing. He has the faculty of seeing clearly, and of telling what he has seen, in a way to claim the attention of the reader. He disposes of many of the exaggerated notions of the insecurity of life in Spain, and likewise does away with with much of the romance which we are always accustomed to associate with the land of the Cid. It is a book of the present time, dealing with Carlistism, with the Republic and all the great men on either side. It is a really fresh, enlivening, entertaining, and withal instructive book, that well repays perusal.

OUTLINE OF THE EVOLUTION PHILOSOPHY. By Dr. E. Gazelle. (Translated from the French by Rev. O. B. Frothingham.) With an Appendix, by E. L. Youmans. Published by Messrs. D. Appleton & Co., New York.

This volume gives in a condensed form, but in a style that is perspicuous, entertaining and instructive, the salient features of the Evolution theory, especially as it has been developed by Mr. Herbert Spencer. The book gives a very clever idea of Mr. Spencer's thought, and presents, tersely, but clearly, the outline of the philosophy of Evolution. It is a book that will serve for those who would keep measurably apace with "advanced thought," and yet have neither time nor means to enable them to procure and go through with the larger volumes. It belongs to the Popular Science Library.

WARRINGTON'S MANUAL; by W. S. Robinson ("Warrington") clerk of the House of Representatives of Massachusetts, from 1862 to 1873. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston.

The principles of Parliamentary law are set forth in this little book in a condensed form, yet so clearly, that all may understand. It gives in a compact style, and succinctly all the information needed for presiding over a deliberative body, so as to give equal justice to all, and yet facilitate business. It is one of the best manuals we have ever examined, and superior to the majority of them.

A PERFECT ADONIS. By the author of "Rutledge," &c. Published by G. W. Carlton & Co., New York; for sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

A young girl marries a man whom she does not love, and her old lover is driven away; the husband dies; the widow tries to be a nun, but her dream of happiness in a cloister is disturbed by the return of her old lover—a young gentleman of surpassing fascination, who eventually takes her from the convent, and she becomes his wife. The work is what is called a "Society Novel."

DEAD LETTERS.

Two Curious Epistles.

The Washington Star says that two rather curious letters were received on the same day at the Postoffice Department. One, which inclosed one dollar, was addressed by a lady at Jerseyville, Ill., "in Care of any liar, ravana, porteg Co., Ohio," and contained inquiries relative to a missing husband. The letter was intended for "any lawyer," but on account of the peculiarity of the manner in which the writer spelled "lawyer," no one of that ilk could be found in Ravenna to claim it. The letter was consequently sent to the Dead Letter Office. The other letter, which is addressed to the Postmaster General, is dated "16 Colville Road, Notting Hill, London, 2d April, 1875," and is as follows:

"SIR: I have to request that you will be kind enough to inform me whether, since 1st December of last year, any letters addressed to 'Baron Otto von Strauz' have been called for by him; and, if forwarded to him, how are they directed. I have also to beg that you will kindly address and post the enclosed. Anxiety for my husband's welfare is the apology I plead for thus trespassing upon your time and good nature; and hoping you will favor me with a reply, I remain, sir, yours faithfully,

"AUGUSTA VON STRAUZ."

The above letter, which is written on monogram paper, and in a good hand, indicating the writer to be a person of education, incloses a note addressed simply "Baron Otto von Strauz." It is thought that possibly this gentleman is very ill in this country, and unable to communicate with his friends, or that he may have been foully dealt with. The Postoffice Department would be glad to learn of his whereabouts.

Ingenious Remedy for Disagreeable Relatives.

In a life of Lord Shelburne, recently published in England, the following ingenious remedy for a disagreeable brother-in-law is given: "Lady Arabella Denny was married young to a neighboring gentleman, one of the oldest families among the English-Irish, a very good sort of man, uninformed an ignorant, but who had a brother, Sir — Denny, a coward, a savage, and a fool, who set himself to make her life unhappy. She knew that if she complained, or even told her husband, it would make an irreconcilable breach between the two brothers, and therefore she could not reconcile it to her principles. She told me, however, that finding she could not endure his brutality, and that her nerves began to fail her, she had recourse to the following stratagem: She determined to learn privately to fire a pistol. When she had practiced sufficiently to become a very good shot, she prevailed upon him, without letting him into the secret, to accompany her to the retired spot where she had practiced, and show him how dexterous she had become, telling him at the same time that she suffered so much from his brutality that, if he did not alter his behavior, she was determined to apply the skill she had obtained by coming behind him, or by the surest means she could invent, his ill-usage having made her regardless as to her own life. After this conversation he immediately changed his manner, and never afterward gave her the least trouble." The question arises whether the same sort of stratagem would not have a soothing effect upon mothers-in-law of aggressive tendencies.

General McClellan and Family.

The Louisville Courier-Journal reports that Mrs. General McClellan writes many pages to her mother, Mrs. General Marcy, about her Winter on the Nile. The Khedive has been most polite and attentive to General McClellan and family. He gave them permits to visit his wonderful gardens on the Nile. General and Mrs. McClellan have two interesting children—May, aged thirteen, and Max, aged nine. The party consists of the parents, children, a governess, and the Arabs, who have been guides as well as servants. They have navigated the Nile as far as ordinary boats penetrate. They have enjoyed uninterrupted good health and perfect happiness and content. The General will remain abroad with his family until August. On a former occasion they lived in Europe for years. Before going to Egypt, General and Mrs. McClellan were entertained at Florence by the Count and Countess Pizano, who own one of the finest places in Italy. The house is eight hundred feet long and as many wide. The frescoing was executed by Tintoretto and other famous painters.

IT will cost $500,000 to finish the Washington monument, which has stood for more than twenty years in its present incomplete condition, for lack of money to carry on the work. In order that foreign visitors to the Centennial may not see such a specimen of neglect and forgetfulness, the National Monument Association now appeal for contributions toward the fund necessary to complete the monument by the time that the American Centennial celebration takes place.

HISTORICAL.

The Battles of the Revolution.

Below we give a list of the important battles of the Revolution. They began April 19th, 1775. They closed October 19, 1781—six years and six months. The British sent 134,000 soldiers and sailors to this war. The colonists met them with 230,000 Continentals and 50,000 militia. The British let loose Indians and equally savage Hessians. The colonists had for allies the brave and courteous Frenchmen. The leading battles of the war, those particularly worthy of celebration, are Concord and Lexington, Bunker's Hill, Long Island, White Plains, Trenton, Princeton, Bennington, Saratoga, Monmouth, King's Mountain, Cowpens, Eutaw Springs, Yorktown. These are of national interest. Many of the others are more especially local. The disposition is to celebrate them all, victories or defeats—to recall the deeds of our ancestors, and have a good time generally. Our readers will do well to preserve the following list of the revolutionary battles:

Lexington (first skirmish)	April 19, 1775
Ticonderoga	May 10, 1775
Bunker's Hill	June 17, 1775

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, April 23, 1875.

A day of quiet, involving about the usual volume of business, and no special change in any particular was the feature of yesterday. Even the resumption at the mills produces as yet no appreciable change, and all moves easily and regularly. Some of our bank cashiers think they see evidence of a large demand for funds, soon; but this, when sifted, consists merely of a rather more active use of current funds, occasioning a more active current business at the banks, but not involving a larger amount of deposits. It is argued that loose debts are being collected, and current assets gathered up, and that this grows out of a more active state of the market; and that it is all preliminary to an activity which will require a liberal use of bank loans. Hence the banks are gathering up their resources and getting ready for a run which they anticipate will soon come. Other than this, yesterday was not remarkable for any special developments.

—Last winter a suit involving five millions of dollars was brought by the celebrated Emma Mining Company of Utah and England against Trenor W. Park, H. H. Baxter, and Senator Stewart of Nevada, defendants, who, it was alleged, by false representations induced the English stockholders, who now own the mine, to buy it at a price far in excess of its real value. The company claims damages to the extent of the $5,000,000 named, and brought suit in the Supreme Court of the State of New York to enforce the claim. Park and Baxter have just filed their answers, in which they deny all charges of fraud, claiming that every representation made by them was true of their knowledge or belief, and that the English company did not enter into the bargin until they had satisfied themselves of the truth of the statements made. The answers practically claim that the English stockholders went into the matter with their eyes open, no fraud was practiced, and if the mine was not as productive after the sale as before it was not the fault of the defendants.

—Col. T. A. Scott, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was expected to arrive at New Orleans yesterday, and will probably reach home about the last of this month, until which time the question of the May dividend of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will be held in abeyance by his Board of Directors. The earnings of the company, we are reliably informed, are, up to the present time, good, and as fully warrant as heretofore the payment of the usual dividend. If a reduced dividend is made at the coming semi-annual period, which is not now deemed probable, it will be from a change of policy in that respect, in which all our leading railway companies paying 10 per cent. will participate, rather than from a necessity arising from any falling off of revenues.

—A Philadelphia commercial traveler, who has been selling in Richmond under a license taken out by his firm, has been arrested and held to bail on the strength of an opinion by the Attorney General that a license is a personal privilege. We believe the contrary has been held by a local Virginia Court. Both holdings are under the old law, superseded by one passed at the last session.

—Baltimore & Ohio Railroad shares are quoted at Baltimore at 185 bid 185 1-2 asked, par $100, capital $13,151,962. A dividend of 10 per cent. of this sum is but $1,315,196. The stock of the Pennsylvania Railroad is selling at 55, par $50, capital $67,056,750. A dividend of 10 per cent. on this sum is $6,705,675.

—The Railway Equipment Trust of Pennsylvania announces a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent., payable at 431 Chestnut street, May 1, 1875, to the holders of the capital stock, "series A," as they stand registered.

NEW YORK, April 22, 1875.

Money was easy at 3 per cent.; choice mercantile paper 4@4½; prime 5@6. Sterling was firm at 487¼ for sixty days and 490 for sight. The customs receipts were $437,000. Gold was steady at 114⅞@115. The borrowing rates were 2, 1 and 1-64. Loans were also made flat. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $721,000. The clearings were $33,000,000. The specie engagements thus far for Saturday's steamers are $500,000. The specie shipments to-day were $366,000, of which $300,000 was gold coin, and the remainder silver bars. Government bonds are firm. Railroad mortgages are strong, with large business. The greatest activity was in Union Pacific and Northwest consolidated. State bonds are quiet.

Stocks were generally strong and higher. Union Pacific was the most conspicuous stock in the dealings, and rose from 74⅝ to 76½ on large business. The closing transactions were at 76¼@76¼. Panama sold at 141@142, and was afterwards bid for at 144½. Lake Shore rose from 71⅝ to 72¾, and reacted 1-2 per cent. towards the close. Wabash rose from 16 to 16⅞, and closed at 16⅝. Kansas Pacific advanced from 24 1-2 to 25 1-4, against 22 1-2 at the close yesterday. Ohios advanced in early dealings to 28 1-4 on reports that the competition with rival lines had been settled.

At the close the improvement was lost. Northwest common advanced from 42⅜ to 42 7-8, the opening and closing quotations respectively. Delaware, Lackawanna & Western rose from 115¼ to 116. Erie was exceptionally weak, and declined from 34 1-4 to 30⅞, with the final sales at 30⅞. Missouri Pacific advanced from 48⅛ to 49 1-4. The other changes were not important. The strength of Union Pacific was partially due to a published statement that the value of the unsold lands of the company was sufficient to pay the bonded debt of the company.

The following dispatch was received to-day:

"SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—To Geo. S. Scott, V. P. Pacific Mail Steamship Co.: The steamer reported burning off Santa Barbara is said to have proceeded on her voyage. It was not one of the Pacific Mail steamers."

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 22, 1875.

The general markets continue to improve slowly but steadily, and while business generally is still short of what it usually is at this season of the year, it is considerably better than it was, and the indications are favorable for a continued improvement. The grain markets continue firm, with a very limited supply and light receipts, and the outlook just now is favorable for a still higher range of prices. Flour is also firmer but quiet, and all the leading grocery staples appear to be gaining in strength. The hog product continues strong, and notwithstanding prices are already pretty well up, the probability is that they will go still higher. In a word, almost everything appears to be appreciating in value, which is an indication that general confidence is recovering.

APPLES—In light supply but there is not much inquiry and prices remain unchanged, ranging in a jobbing way, from $2 to $3 per bbl, according to quality and condition.

APPLE BUTTER—50@55c ₱ gal.

BEANS—The receipts recently, especially by river, have been liberal, and with the supply accumulating, and a stronger disposition to realize, the market is easier, although some holders have considerable confidence in the future; we continue to quote, that is, for round lots, at $1,75@1,80 for mediums and $1,85@1,90 for navies.

BUTTER—There is a continued active demand for the finer grades, and with a very limited supply of this character, prices are tending upward; sales reported at 28@32 cents for prime to choice rolls; 20@25 for fair to good and 10@15 for inferior to common. The market is still overstocked with old stale stock, for which there is but little inquiry at any price, and the indications are that a large proportion of it will have to be sold for grease, as it is unfit for anything else.

CHEESE—There is a very fair local trade, and the market is reported steady, but prices have undergone no change; prime Ohio Goshen, 16½@17; New York, 17@17½c.

BROOMS—We quote "Union" factory prices: No 2 common, $2,75; No 3 Hurl, $3,00; No. 4, $3,50; No 5, $4,00; No 6, $4,25; No. 2 Carpet, $4,50; No. 4 do, $4,75; fancy, Parlor, $5,00; Wisps, plain, $1,25 @1,75; Wisps, fancy, $1,50@2; Toy Brooms, $1,50 @2,00.

CRANBERRIES—$10@12 ₱ bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Continues quiet and unchanged. Apples, 7½@8½; Peaches, (halves) 8@9c; Blackberries, 9@10.

EGGS—The market was pretty generally reported dull to-day, with a supply somewhat in excess of the demand, and while 15 appeared to be regarded as the ruling price, a round lot could probably have been obtained at 14. Dealers report that the demand is mainly for small lots.

FLOUR—The general tone and spirit of the market is firmer, in sympathy with the appreciation in Wheat, but trade in our market continues quiet, and prices remain unchanged. We continue former quotations. Spring wheat flours, $5,60@5,75 for Wisconsins and $5,85@6 for Minnesotas; winters, $5,90@6 for red and $6,25@6,50 for amber and white. Rye Flour, $5,.75@6

GROCERIES—There is a fair degree of activity manifested in grocery circles, and, as already intimated, all the leading articles are very firm with a strong upward tendency. There has been an increased demand for goods of all kinds within the past few days, which may be attributed mainly to the to the starting up of the various iron and nail mills, and our merchants are feeling considerably better in consequence.

GRAIN—The receipts of all kinds of grain continue very meagre, and with a steady consumptive demand and very meagre supply, prices are strong but unchanged. There is some inquiry for Wheat but very little arriving or offering: Pennsylvania and Ohio red, $1,18@1,20; ditto amber and white, $1,23@1,25. It is feared that the cold freezing weather has ruined the winter wheat in some localities. The Oat market is firm with considerable inquiry and a very limited supply; mixed, 65@69; white, 70@71. Corn is firm and advancing, with a very meagre stock in this market; sales of car at 80@83, according to quality and shelled may be quoted at 82@85 for mixed to prime yellow, free in elevator. Rye continues scarce, and the market may be quoted steady at $1,15@1,20. No movement in Barley.

HAY—The market is steady for baled but unchanged; prairie, $16@18; timothy, $22@22, according to quality and condition. Loose, from country wagons, $25@30.

HOMINY—4,25@4,50 ₱ bbl.

MAPLE SYRUP—$1,15@1,25 ₱ gallon jugs.

ONIONS—$3,50@4,50 ₱ bbl, according to quality and condition. Onion Setts, $7@7,50 ₱ bu.

POULTRY—Dressed Poultry continues in light supply: Chickens, 13@14c ₱ lb: Turkeys, 17@18c. Live Chickens, by the coop, 65@75c ₱ pair.

POTATOES—The receipts have fallen off somewhat within the past day or two, and the market is firmer in consequence, although as yet there has been no quotable improvement in prices. Sale of 1 car Peerless at 82½c per bushel, and 1 car Interior Peach Blows at 80. Prime Peach Blows quotable at 90c on track; Early Rose, for seed, $1,20; do. Peerless, $1,10.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 22, 1875.

Trade continues quiet, and the markets present but little that is new or important, excepting that Refined was reported firmer to-day. Crude remains about as last quoted: $1.65@1.67½ for immediate shipment at Parker; the receipts by river are very light, in consequence of low water, but there are several barges remaining unsold, which could doubtless be bought at $1.80, perhaps $1.78. However, the most of those refiners who have been receiving by river are now pretty well stocked, and there does not appear to be as much inquiry in consequence as there has been. Refined quoted at 11¾ for immediate, and 11⅞ for early May on cars here to go to Baltimore, equal to about 13½ delivered there. Quotable at 10¾ on Penna. cars to go to Philadelphia. Baltimore continues to be the best market for Pittsburgh refiners.

The market for Barrels continues quiet and unchanged; $1,15@1,20 for countries, and $1,30 for city make.

New York Wool Market.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Trade since our last has been comparatively dull in the local market, yet prices have been without change of moment. Manufacturers have been buying only in small amounts, to meet urgent wants, pending the arrival of new clip in amounts sufficient to afford a good selection. New California Spring Clip is as yet in moderate receipt here, though San Francisco advices are of accumulating supplies and a weaker market there. Holders of stock here do not press desirable lots of old product on the market, and generally claim full previous rates. Sales have been reported, since our last, of only 13,000 lb Domestic Fleece at 45@53c; 7,000 lbs Washed Stock on private terms; 21,000 lbs Domestic Pulled, part at 45@48c; 50 bales Scoured at 65c; 5 bales and 40,000 lb California Fall at 14@23c; 10,000 lb California Spring at 29c; 35 bales new do. at 32@35c; 1,500 lb California Lambs at 26c; 6,800 lb Texas at 29@32c, and 1,000 lb Australia at 52½ ₱ pound.

New York Highwines Market.

The weekly circular of F. O. Boyd & Co. says:— The continued unseasonable weather is a serious drawback to trade, but as stocks are light at the present time we anticipate a lively trade when it commences, and as distillers are generally preparing to shut down in May we anticipate an advance in prices. Alcohol free is in good supply and sells from 1c to 2c below the price of highwines. Alcohol for export is entirely nominal; no sales have been made during the week, and we quote from 45@50c. The stock of highwines in the country has increased somewhat during the week, and we now estimate it at 45,000 barrels. Receipts of high wines and alcohol for the week, 2,150 bbls; Sales, 1,500 bbls; average price of highwines, $1.14; average price of alcohol, $1.12½; present stock of high wines in store, about 6,000 bbls.

FREIGHTS.

The action of the Penna. R. R. Co. in reducing freights from Chicago to the seaboard without making a corresponding difference from here, is, as might be expected, severely censured by the trade, as it cannot help but seriously damage this market; indeed, it has done so already. With the exception of through consignments, the receipts of stock have been steadily on the decline for some time past, and it may be attributed almost entirely to the policy of the railroad officials, to which reference has been made; shippers west of Ohio will now run their stock to Chicago instead of coming here, from which point they can ship to any of the seaboard markets at much lower rates than they can obtain by coming this way; and, in addition, the very low through freights enables buyers to pay about as much in Chicago as they could afford to pay here. In a word, the effect of the policy now pursued by the Penna. R. R. Co. is to transfer our trade to Chicago and other points in the West, and to make this merely a point for watering, feeding and resting stock. As noted in our last issue, there is now, so we are informed, but 5c ₱ cwt difference in the cost of transportation between Chicago and New York and Pittsburgh to New York, notwithstanding the distance is scarcely one-half.

CATTLE.

The receipts during the past 24 hours were 33 cars —making 231 cars for the week, against 209 cars during the same time last week; sales 1,110 head, against 1,019 during the corresponding time last week. Philadelphia dealers bought 28 cars; New York, 11 cars; country dealers, 21 cars, and local butchers, 7 cars; the Philadelphia dealers, in addition to the 28 cars bought here, had 28 cars from Chicago, making 54 cars in all. Up to this writing not a single bullock has been bought to go to Baltimore.

The run, as will be seen, has been somewhat larger than that of the corresponding time last week, but with an increased number of through consignments, the actual supply on sale was less. There was an increased number of country buyers, in addition to which our local butcher trade bought more freely than usual, hence notwithstanding the Eastern men took hold very lightly, sellers had but little difficulty in putting up prices from a ¼ to ⅜ of a cent ₱ lb. especially on the lighter grades, which were most sought after. Salesmen all conceded that, if they had been tied down to the regular eastern buyers, they would not have been able to put up prices much, if any; also, that the country buyers and butchers caused the market to be considerably better for the selling interest than it would have been otherwise. The demand for stockers continues light in consequence of the backwardness of Spring, and no improvement need be looked for until the weather becomes warmer and the grass begins to make its appearance.

Sales were made at 7¼@7½ for extra fine steers, which are the highest prices that have been paid this season; 6⅞@7c for good to prime, and 5½@6c for common to fair. Fat cows and bulls, 5 to 6c. Stockers, 4@5c, with, as already intimated, but little inquiry.

HOGS.

Receipts during past 24 hours, 37 cars making 141 cars for the week against 141 cars same time last week. In consequence of the low through freights, the through consignments are increasing, and the offerings here growing less, but then the demand is also falling off, as both Philadelphia and New York are drawing more freely on Chicago, and consequently they do not require so many here. The market has been dull and draggy all week, and while the supply has been comparatively small, prices are weak and drooping; there has been a decline during the past twenty-four hours of 15 to 20c per cwt. and as compared with last week, from 40@50 cents. Corn-fed may be quoted at 8¼@8½ for fair to prime Philadelphia hogs, as it was hard to get over 8c to-day; 8@8¼c for Baltimore and 7¾@7¾c for Yorkers. Still hogs are commencing to come forward, and they are selling at 8¼@8½ for Philadelphias, and 7@7½ for Yorkers. While, as will be seen, there has been no falling off in the receipts, the actual supply was less, as there was an increased number of through consignments.

SHEEP.

The receipts have been liberal, much more so than was generally expected, 100 cars against 89 cars same time last week; and they were pretty evenly divided between shorn and unshorn. The market in consequence of the continued cold weather, was dull for the former, while for the latter, and for the same reason, there was an active demand, they sold just about as fast as they arrived, and that, too, at a slight advance. However, as stated in our report of yesterday, the market for clipped was as all that could be expected, and owners have reason to be thankful that it was no worse. We repeat our quotations of yesterday: Wooled—extra 100 lbs, 7½c; 90@95 lbs, 7¼c; 75@85 lbs, 6½@6¾c; clipped—90@100 lbs, 5⅞@5¾; 80@90 lbs, 5½@5½; 75 to 80 lbs, 4¾ to 5, Indiana sheep, (wooled) 6 to 7c, as per quality.

New York Butter and Egg Market.

NEW YORK, April 21.—CHEESE.—Receipts for the week, 12,286 boxes; do. last week, 13,269 do.; same week last year, 1,958 do.; exports past week, 24,479 do.; do. last week, 19,570 do.; do, same week last year, 2,694 do. A few fine new cheese were sold at Little Falls at 14@15. Purchases for England have been again limited, but at the close there is a quiet tone to business, and perhaps an easier feeling in prices. Several of the largest shippers have gone abroad, and the market naturally feels the want of the activity they created. The stock of old is very light, and should the home trade continue brisk prices may harden again in a few days, and holders consequently make no material variation in late quotations. A few repeated full cream new are reported as selling at 16.

BUTTER.—Receipts for the week, 19,112 packages do last week, 16,210 pkgs.; do. same week last year, 12,365 pkgs. Exports to Europe the past week, 528 firkins. There is little to say in reference to old butter; the chief effort on the part of holders is to close it out, and when such a feeling is predominant, regular quotations are hard to obtain. The range is from 15c to 25c, but when good grades are made to help sell the under qualities 20@22c are full quotations, if there is a good proportion of sound useful stock contained in the line. Receipts are again very liberal, and include a free supply of new. The quality of new is running poor, and even when it suits there is a strong tendency to depart from existing prices. The extreme for tubs to-day is 27c, and they must be faultless in color and flavor to bring it. Eastern and a good many large local buyers are heavily stocked up with old butter, and as they do not wish to add any dragging grades of new to their supply, the off qualities of grain and hay made are hard to move. Nice, pure fasting small-rolled of natural color sells upon arrival. The weather has been cold and favorable for carrying stock, but sellers do not want to carry it; at this season a sudden warm spell will make a damaging effect upon the soundest of Spring make. Recent arrivals of Western new are noticeably poor, and they drag at the low range.

EGGS.—Receipts for the week, 17,731 bbls; do. last week, 11,182 do; same week last year, 16,245 do. The market has gradually declined to 18@18½c for Western best marks. Supplies have been quite liberal, and in the ordinary course of matters there will be no lack of stock from this time forward. Sellers are generally shaping for a lower market, regardless of the favorable temperature of the weather at present.

Chicago Seed Market.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Timothy met with a fair demand at former prices. Sales ranged at $2,25@2,33 for common to good, and $2,40@2,50 for prime to choice. Clover was dull and weak, the offerings being in excess of the demand. Sales were made at $6.50@6.60 for prime to extra medium, and $7,70 for mammoth. Flax sold slowly at $1,80 to $1,90 for fair to prime. There was a good demand for Hungarian, and prices were steady, with sales of prime at $1,10. Millet was scarce, and there was quite a number of orders on the market. Prices ruled steady and firm. Sales ranged at $1,37½@1,45 for good to choice.

BUFFALO, April 22.—Cattle; receipts 2,142 head; total for the week 8,687; market slow for want of stock; 105 cars fresh arrivals were through consignments; sales of 200 Illinois steers, 1,061 to 1,211 pounds, $5,25@7,25. Sheep and lambs: receipts 3,800 head; total for the week 11,200; market more active yesterday late in the day; dull and slow this morning; 1,800 head sold, mostly yesterday afternoon; 12 cars remaining unsold; 668 Ohio clipped, 84 to 106 pounds, $5.62½@6; 421 Indiana clipped, 86 pounds, $4,75; 79 Ohio wool, 110 pounds, $7,20; 218 Illinois wool, 91 pounds, $6,80; 200 Michigan wool, 82 pounds, $6.37½. Hogs: receipts 2,500 head; total for the week 10,300; market dull and dragging; Yorkers holding at $7,75@8,10; heavy hogs $8,50@8,60.

BALTIMORE, April 22.—The cattle market has been fairly active during the week, and prices were ½c higher; very best 6⅞@7⅛c; first quality 5⅜@6⅜c; medium or good fair quality 5@5⅜c; ordinary thin steers, oxen and cows 4¼@5c; most sales 5⅜@6½c; receipts 1,280; sales 1,052. Hogs were in fair supply during the week, but the majority were of rather an inferior quality, being light bacon hogs, which, at the prices demanded, are hard to sell; other grades are steady, with a fair demand; light bacon hogs 10¾@11c; fair to good 11⅛@11¾c, with a few extra at 12c; receipts 7,523 head. Sheep a shade more active and ¼@⅜c higher; clipped sheep 4½@6c; unclipped 6@7¾c, gross; lambs $3@5 per head; receipts 1,910.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Cattle: receipts 4,000 head; market steady, but firm and fairly active; shipping steers $5,75@7,00; choice steers sold at $6,15@6,32½; good steers $5,85@6,50; shipments 3,000 head. Hogs: receipts 14,000 head; market active and prices advanced; bacon grades $7,50@7,90; poor to choice lots $7,75@9; shipments 8,000 head. Sheep: receipts 2,000 head; market fairly active at full prices.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—Hogs a shade off on low grades; shippers $6,75@7,25; bacon $7,50@7,85. Cattle strong and in good demand; sales of choice native steers at 6½c; good to prime shippers 6⅛@6⅝c; fair to choice butchers 5¼@6c.

CINCINNATI, April 22.—Hogs dull; range $7,50@8,50; no choice offered.

Cotton.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Cotton quiet at 16⅝@16⅞c; futures closed steady; sales of 35,100 bales; April 16⅝@16 5-32c; May 16 5-32@16 3-16c; June 16 7-16@16 15-32c; July 16 11-16c; August 16 27-32c; September 16 21-32@16 11-16c; October 16 7-32c; November 16 1-32@16 1-16c; December 16 1-16@16 3-32c.

NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—Cotton: demand temporarily interrupted by an advance in Liverpool freights to ⅜d, and Havre to 1c; sales of 1,000 bales; prices unchanged; receipts 1,596 bales; exports coastwise 601; Great Britain 1,925; stock 149,929; unsold last evening 85,800; on shipboard 355,000.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The package trade in domestic goods and woolens continues slow, but prints are fairly active. The market for cotton goods is steady and unchanged. Brown heavy standard and fine sheetings, corset jeans and cheviots are in fair demand. Fancy and plaid prints are selling freely in small lots. Ginghams are active and scarce. Eight hundred cases of damaged woolens were sold at auction to-day at fair prices.

DEPARTURES.

Elizabeth, Irwin, Elizabeth.

BOATS ADVERTISED TO LEAVE TO-DAY.

Mallie Ragon, Williamson, Wheeling, 12 M.
Juniata, Brennan, Cincinnati, 4 P. M.

THE stage of water last evening was seven feet four inches and stationary. Cloudy and raw, with indications equally favorable for rain or snow. Business only fair, but we are in hopes that it will improve from this on.

THE Exchange will load for Cincinnati after the Juniata.

THE Shannon left Cincinati on Wednesday for this port.

The Fred Wilson departed yesterday with a tow of coal for Louisville.

THE R. W. Skillinger is due on Sunday night, and will return to Ironton on Tuesday at 4 P. M.

THE Wild Duck barges, as will be seen by card, are announced for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi.

THE Mallie Ragon, Capt. Williamson, is the regular packet for Wheeling and Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at 12 M.

THE towboats Eagle and James A. Blackmore arrived, and the Geo. Lysle and Fred Wilson No. 2 departed with tows of coal.

THE A. J. Baker, en route with a cargo of ore, passed Cincinnati on Weddesday. She left a barge of ore aground at Irish Jimmies.

THE Cons. Millar, Captain James H. Pepper, made the run from Memphis to Cincinnati this trip in a little less than three and a half days.

THE Cherokee, Capt. Wolfe, is announced for New Orleans forthwith, and those interested should make a note of this and be governed accordingly.

THE J. A. Stone, Hawkeye No. 2, My Choice and Nellie Speer passed Cincinnati on Wednesday en route for this port with tows of empty barges.

THE Juniata did not get of for Cincinnati yesterday as expected, but she will take her departure to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

THE Mollie Ebert left St. Louis Wednesday with 250 tons of pig iron, 20 tons of scrap steel, 300 sacks of ship stuff and 60 tons of scrap iron for Pittsburgh.

YESTERDAY'S Cincinnati Gazette says: The A. J. Baker, St. Louis to Pittsburgh, passed up with a barge of iron. She left a barge aground at Irish Jimmy's Bar, Rose Clare, containing 600 tons ore, and it will not be released until there is a rise.

THIS season the Keokuk Northern Line runs in connection with the Illinois Central Railroad, while the Diamond Jo. Line runs in connection with the Northwestern and Milwaukee and St. Paul—the former receiving freight at Dunleith, and the latter at Prairie du Chien and LaCrosse.

THE body of a white man, in his shirt sleeves and stocking feet, is reported to have been found in Cowpen Bend, five miles above Natchez. The body is said to have had a good deal of money and jewelry around it, and is supposed to be that of Hardy Hondren, the clerk of the sunken steamer B. H. Hurt.

DR. R. M. BAYNE, who steamboated in his early days, but subsequently studied medicine, died at Gallipolis, Ohio, on Sunday last, and his remains were interred at Georgetown, Pa., on Wednesday, where he formerly resided. Deceased was a brother-in-law of Captain Ben. Laughlin. He died of consumption.

THE St Louis Globe of Wednesday says: The fine steamer Mollie Ebert, Captain Batchelor, could not discharge her immense cargo in time to leave for Pittsburgh yesterday evening, but will positively leave for that and all intermediate ports this day at 4 P. M., from Northern Line wharfboat.... The Jas. Reese, Jr., will leave for home (Pittsburgh) to-day.

THE Pittsburgh papers "blow" about old-time steamboatmen. Why, we met Jack Bennet and W. Ross, yesterday, looking like a pair of boys and as full of fun as a pair of kittens. Old Jack is 76 years of age, was at sea twenty years before he came here in '38, and has "followed the river ever since." Mr. Ross is 76 years of age, came here in '38, and has been on the river constantly ever since he came here. These two playful youths are actively engaged on the river, and could tell the Pittsburgh "old-timers" things about the river they don't know.—Louisville Courier.

WEDNESDAY'S St Louis Democrat says: Captains Vore and Bofinger sold the Pauline Carroll to D. Campbell, wrecker, for $6,000. Captain John Carroll had this steamer built at the end of 1868, at a cost of $90,000, the hull being constructed at Cannelton, Indiana. Captain Carroll, in order to have her built, bought a saw-mill, a forest, cattle, chains, etc., and cut the timber. The P. Carroll cleared $94,000 by her first six trips. She was then sold to the A. and M. S. S. Co. for $140,000 in stock, for which par in cash was proffered immediately after. It has frequently been stated on good authority that the P. Carroll never made a losing trip. She is worn out. No doubt she will be dismantled, and some one will buy her engines for a new boat.

YESTERDAY'S Cincinnati Commercial says: The Shannon departed for Pittsburgh, where she has orders for over three hundred tons of Pittsburgh manufactures for Tennessee merchants. Captain P. Egan is among the Shannon's guests for Pittsburgh, and will return on the same steamer. She received here 100 bbls of oil, 100 bbls of vinegar, 120 bales cotton, a large lot of furniture, and 20 cabin passengers. She had when she came here 350 tons of iron, 250 bbls lime and cement, 62 bales cotton, 40 tons broken glass and scrap iron, 250 bbls flour. Bobo and Whitten pilot her to Pittsburgh. ......The My Choice, with coal and 2 keel boats laden with drain pipe and fire brick, J. H. Bigley, J. S. McDonald, J. A. Stone, Lioness No. 2, and Hawkeye No. 2, with empty barges.......Capt. John S. Deveny, United States Supervising Inspector for this district, visited 'Change yesterday, and will return to Pittsburgh to-morrow.......Mr. Thomas Rees passed through Cincinnati yesterday, on route from St. Louis to Pittsburgh. He has been conferring with Captain John J. Darragh, of the burned Paragon, at St. Louis.......Captain Drinkwater takes occasion, through a mutual friend, to remind us that we have neglected to make any public mention of a recent sale of another fractional interest in the venal old Hella Ughes. We will interview, on their return from Pittsburgh, two of her former fractional owners, Captains Arthur and Egan, and have "Buz" to write up for all he knows about the Mountain Pet.......Captain John Bofinger has received a dispatch from New Orleans stating that the case of the Richmond and Sabine has been decided in his favor in the United States Circuit Court, at that point, affirming the decision of the District Court. The Richmond owners were sued by the Sabine owners in the sum of $80,000. The owners of the former boat filed a counter suit of $12,000, and the decision awards that sum in full.

SCHOOL RETRENCHMENT.

Proposed Reduction of the Salaries of Allegheny Principals and Teachers.

The Committee on Teachers and Salaries of the Allegheny Board of School Controllers, we are informed, at a recent meeting decided to recommend to the Board at its next meeting that the salaries of principals be reduced fifteen per cent. and teachers twelve per cent. Our reporter last evening had a conversation with four members of the Board, none of whom are connected with the Committee on Teachers and Salaries, and they all expressed themselves strongly opposed to any reduction, and at the ensuing meeting, said they would not only vote against but would use their influence to defeat any such measure. The Board meets on the first Tuesday evening of May, and if this question is introduced it will occasion a warm oratorical, rhetorical, and logical contest. In view of the fact that a reduction is talked of, it may be of interest to consider how it would affect the class of teachers who receive the poorest pay in case it should become a law. There are teachers in Allegheny who receive as low as $350 for a term of ten months, or $35 per month. A reduction of twelve per cent. would cut that salary down to $30.80 a month, not much more than enough to pay four weeks board at a third-rate hash factory. There is but little probability that the Board would agree to a reduction. The Committee meets next Monday night, when it may take further action in the matter.

THE CASE OF PHILIP MURRAY.

His Counsel Makes a Motion for a New Trial.

Messrs. Marshall and Reardon, counsel for Philip Murray, who was convicted of murder in the first degree last Saturday have made a motion for a new trial, assigning the following reasons: First—The Court erred in sustaining the challenge for cause by the Commonwealth in cases of jurors called. Second—The Court erred in the general charge upon questions of law. Third—The Court erred in affirming the second point submitted by the counsel for the prosecution. Fourth—The Court erred in affirming the third point submitted by the counsel for the prosecution. Fifth—The Court erred in submitting the sixth point submitted by the counsel for the prosecution. Sixth—The Court erred in charging "That so far as appears he had no business at this mill where White was employed." Seventh—The Court erred in charging that the morning of the shooting "the defendant had made a threat against White." Eighth—The Court erred in charging, "If the defendant, with the purpose of having a quarrel with White, went around with his pistol to the mill where White was at work and sought him and met him intent on this purpose, and in the conflict killed White, it was murder." Ninth—The Court erred in charging generally on the presumption that the defendant was guilty—in setting out strongly the law tending to establish the prisoner's guilt, and omitting to charge the law in mitigation of guilt.

POLITICAL.

Meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club—Suggestions for the County Committee.

Last night a special meeting of the Young Men's Republican Club, of Allegheny, was held at their headquarters, at which there was a large attendance. Mr. John A. Myler presided with Mr. Chas. U. Splane at the secretary's desk.

Mr. Bois, from the Committee on Membership, reported the names of Phillip Newhart and G. W. Gribbs. These gentlemen were elected members of the club.

Mr. Henry Warner offered the following:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this club, that in dividing the county into representative districts, each school district therein be entitled to one representative in the several nominating conventions.

The resolution was adopted.

Some discussion was then evoked by the following, offered by Mr. J. D. Walker:

Resolved, That the members of this club, who are members of the County Executive Committee, be requested to insist upon and vote for late Conventions.

The resolution created a lively debate, but the preponderance of sentiment was against it. It was finally tabled.

Mr. W. G. Stubbs offered the following:

Resolved, That we suggest to the County Executive Committee to call a "Primary" to take place in each Legislative and Senatorial district to elect delegates to a Convention to be called to choose delegates to the State Convention.

The resolution, after some discussion, was unanimously adopted.

After the transaction of some routine business, of no general interest, the meeting adjourned.

THE CLARK-McCULLY BOND.

The Defense Closed—The Opinion of Mr. Duff as to the Seal on the Bond—The Rebutting Testimony.

There were but few facts of importance developed in the case of Clark vs. Frew et al. yesterday. A number of witnesses were placed upon the stand, the most important of whom was Mr. Duff, of Duff's business college, who testified that after a close examination of the signature and seal on the bond, he was of the opinion that the seal had been affixed after the name had been signed. At the conclusion of the testimony of this witness the defense rested, and Mr. Acheson, previous to calling witnesses in rebuttal, addressed the jury briefly, giving a summary of what he expected to prove by the witnesses he would call. He proposed to show the early and long friendship existing between Mr. McCully and Mr Clark. He would show that in 1870 the first endorsement of Mr. Clark's paper was made by McCully—the amount being ten thousand dollars,—and that in all Mr. McCully had endorsed for Mr. Clark to the amount of nearly two hundred thousand dollars. All of these indorsements, he would show, were made merely and entirely through a matter of friendship. The plaintiff could not show that Mr. McCully and Mr. Clark had gone to places of amusement together, but he could show a firm and warm friendship between them. The bond, he would show, had been given in order that Mr. Clark might not be embarrassed in case of Mr. McCully's death, in the matter of the indorsements. The plaintiff would show, Mr. Acheson said, that Mr. Clark had gone to Greensburg and consulted with the Hon. Edgar Cowan, who was his counsel, in regard to the bond. Mr. Cowan drew up the bond and Mr. Clark copied it. Mr. Clark asked him at that time if it was necessary to have it witnessed. Mr. Cowan said that a witness would not be necessary.

Mr. Acheson then called Mr. Stricklet, Mr. W. H. McClelland, John J. McDermitt and Thomas Simpson, all of whom expressed the opinion that the signature to the bond was genuine.

The case is still on trial.

Mr. KREILING, ordinance for frame stable and slaughter house on Saw Mill Valley plank road. Referred.

Mr. OBER, remonstrance against the paving of Hamilton street. Referred.

STREET ORDINANCES.

Mr. VOEGTLY submitted the report of the Street Committee with recommendations adverse to the passage of ordinances for the grading, paving and curbing of Preble avenue, from Stanton avenue to Greenwood street; for the grading, paving and curbing of McClure avenue; to setting aside the report of the viewers in the opening of Federal lane, the committee considering it beyond the jurisdiction of Councils; to a resolution for the construction of steps, from Howard to East street. The report was received and filed and the following ordinances, which accompanied it, were acted upon:

Ordinance for lateral sewer on Palo Alto street, from Taylor to Montery street. Referred back for printing.

Ordinance defining the duties of the City Engineer in preparing estimates of the cost and expenses for the improvement of streets, previous to letting the contracts.

Mr. HUCKESTEIN moved as an amendment to the bill that hand bills showing the estimated cost of the improvement be posted along the street to be improved for the information of the property holders. The amendment was lost, and on motion the ordinance was laid on the table.

Ordinance requiring property holders to use public sewers, and imposing a penalty of from $5 to $25 upon any one failing to comply with its provisions before the lapse of ninety days.

After some debate Mr. Walton moved as an amendment that the time be extended from ninety days to one year. The amendment was carried and the ordinance went back for printing.

Ordinance for the grading and paving of the first alley east of Chartiers street, from Juniata to Rush streets. Passed.

Ordinance for the grading, paving and curbing of Franklin street, from Irwin avenue to Fremont street. Passed.

Ordinance for lateral sewer on first alley east of Monterey street, from Ledlie to Ackley streets.

Mr. McKELVEY submitted a remonstrance against the sewer, setting forth that not a single interested property holder is in favor of it, and that the alley is only five feet wide and not a public alley either. Both remonstrance and ordinance were referred back to the committee.

Ordinance for a main sewer on Fayette street, from Beaver avenue to Manhattan street.

The passage of the bill being objected to, Mr. Voegtly stated that the opinion of the Health Officer is that the sewer is needed as a sanitary precaution, aside from the other purposes for which it is wanted.

After further debate the ordinance was passed finally.

Ordinance for a lateral sewer on Fayette street, from Manhattan to Fulton streets. Passed finally.

The profile of the opening of Beech and the grade of Buchanan streets were submitted and approved.

SURVEYS.

The report of the Survey Committee, submitted by Mr. Cochran, was read, received and filed, and the appended bills which were presented with it were disposed of.

Ordinance for the opening of Monroe street, from the intersection of Spring Garden avenue with Green street to River avenue. Referred back to the committee.

Ordinance for the widening of Harrison street, from Gallagher street to the intersection of Buena Vista street. Passed.

Ordinance changing the viewers on the opening of a street from Allegheny avenue to Fulton street. Passed.

Ordinance changing the viewers on the widening of Preble avenue, from Stanton avenue to Strawberry lane. Passed.

THE POLICE INCREASE VETOED.

Mr. HEAGY called up the ordinance providing for an addition of ten men to the police force.

Mr. VOEGTLY said that the increase was not only unnecessary but would cause increased expense, which is contrary to the Wallace bill which provides that all expenses must be provided for at the opening of the year. He thought but few robberies are committed and that the addition asked for would not have any effect toward decreasing burglaries.

Mr. HEAGY stated that if the gentleman from the Third ward could but hear the complaints lodged before the Police Committee he would be convinced of the great necessity of the increase asked for.

Mr. HARTMAN, of the Eleventh ward, favored the ordinance on the ground that the residents in the rural districts would get more of that protection to which they are justly entitled, and but little of which they are now receiving.

The matter was further discussed, when Mr. HEAGY moved that the ordinance be passed to first reading. On the call of the ayes and nays the motion was lost by the following vote:

Nays—Messrs. Cochran, Callery, Huckestein, Kreiling, Ober, Smith, Walton, Wittmer, Voegtly and Patterson—10.

Ayes—Messrs. Davis, Heagy, Hax, Hartman, Knox, McRoberts, McKelvey, Phillips and Slack—9.

POWERS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. McKELVEY moved that the ordinance quashing the report of the viewers in the matter of the opening of Federal lane be printed and placed on file for the action of Councils. He stated that it was the habit of the Street Committee, when it reported adverse to any matter, to let it rest there without submitting the matter to Councils for their action as to whether or not the negative recommendation shall be sustained. He said if any committee was allowed to exercise such power it could quash any ordinance referred to it. Mr. McKelvey submitted a resolution embodying his remarks and it was adopted, with an amendment offered by Mr. Smith, that the Street Committee also report the facts in the case.

Mr. HAX called up the ordinance for the grading, paving and curbing of Hamilton street, from Gardner to Tinsburg street.

Mr. OBER presented a remonstrance signed by eighteen property holders, alleging that the expense of the improvement would be heavier than they feel able to bear.

A motion by Mr. Voegtly that both papers be referred back to the committee in order to afford the property holders an opportunity to be heard was lost. Mr. Ober then offered as an amendment to the ordinance that the whole, instead of a part of Hamilton street, be improved. It was lost and the ordinance was then passed finally.

Mr. HEAGY called up an ordinance for the grading, paving and curbing of Belmont street, from Rebecca street to the south line of Verner's new buildings. Mr. Smith submitted a remonstrance and expressed his objections to the passage of the bill. After arguments occupying over half an hour the ordinance was passed to third reading and Mr. Smith moved as an amendment that the improvement be continued to the river, instead of ending at Verner's buildings. The amendment was carried and the ordinance went back to be printed.

Adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

W. P. PRICE..............President.
ROBERT DILWORTH..............Clerk.

At roll call the following members were on hand: Messrs. Bedell, Brown, Burton, Biber, Born, Cochran, Drum, Gschwend, Golden, Johnston, Kredel, Lautner, McGuire, Nesmith, Pentecost, Sholes, Stone, Schmitt, Thompson, James Wilson, Wachob, and President Price.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The following papers were presented on the call of the wards:

NEW BUSINESS.

Mr. SHOLES, petition for the extension of the water main on Irwin avenue. Referred.

Also, petition for a bulletin board in the lower hall of the city building, containing the location and office hours of city offices. Referred.

Mr. GOLDEN, petition for widening, opening and grading of North street, Tenth ward. Referred.

Mr. LAUTNER, petition of Mr. Wm. Beilstein for permission to erect a frame slaughter house on Center street, Seventh ward. Referred.

An ordinance for the same was also referred.

Mr. JOHNSTON, an ordinance relative to commitments for violation of city ordinances Referred.

BUSINESS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. STONE, from the Ordinance Committee, presented an ordinance providing for the licensing of peddlers. It does not prohibit gardeners and farmers from peddling their own produce without license.

Mr. GOLDEN moved to strike out "non-residents" so that all persons who shall peddle (excepting gardeners and farmers peddling their own produce) whether residents or non-residents of Allegheny shall pay license.

The amendment after some discussion was adopted and the ordinance was then referred back to the committee for printing.

Mr. BURTON, from the Wooden Building Committee, reported adverse to allowing C. Kocher the right to erect a frame building on Saw Mill alley. The ordinance was laid over.

An ordinance granting O. J. Harrington the right to erect a frame Alderman's office on Preble avenue, Ninth ward, was referred back for printing.

Ordinances granting building privileges to the following persons were passed: S. C. Grier & Co., the right to remove a frame stable from the east side of Grant avenue to the west side. W. W. Duncan, the right to erect a frame stable on the east side of Grant avenue, near Pennsylvania avenue. J. Groetzinger, frame stable on the Troy Hill road, Eighth ward. Charles Lighthill, frame Alderman's office on Ridge street, Eighth ward. Adam Klingman, frame stable, Third ward.

STREET RAILWAYS.

The Committee on Street Railways presented an ordinance granting the Pleasant Valley R. W. Co. the right to lay tracks on each side of the Troy Hill tracks on Ohio street, from Union avenue to East Diamond street. Report received.

Mr. PENTECOST presented a long remonstrance signed by fifty-three business men on Ohio street, protesting against such privilege being granted to the Pleasant Valley Railway Company. The remonstrance was received.

Mr. GOLDEN moved that the ordinance be so amended as to allow the Pleasant Valley road to lay their track along East Diamond street to Park way, thence to Union avenue.

Mr. PENTECOST moved that the whole matter be indefinitely postponed.

The chair decided that no action could be taken until the ordinance was printed, and he referred the ordinance and remonstrance back to the committee to have the former printed.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Mr. SHOLES, from the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose, reported that in connection with the City Property Committee the annual inspection of the fire department was made April 9th. The Hope and Friendship houses are in a bad condition, and it would be useless expense to attempt a repair of them. The committee therefore recommended that new structures be erected for these two companies as they are badly needed. A resolution was also presented authorizing the City Property Committee to have a new roof put on the Good Will house and the roof of the Grant house repaired. The balance of the engine houses are in excellent order, and in first-class serviceable condition. The machinery and apparatus of the department is kept in splendid condition, the firemen of the companies vieing with each other as to whose machinery and apparatus shall be in the best order. The department during the past year has been supplied with hose sufficient for any emergency. The horses are the best that could be procured, and are kept in fine condition. Chief Crow is highly complimented by the Committee, who say that to his energy and capability the efficiency of the department is mainly due, and the result is that Allegheny has a Fire Department as good, if not superior, to any in the State. The Committee also reported the time that it took each company to hitch up and be ready for service during the inspection, all of which has been published in the GAZETTE. The report was received, and the resolution noted referred to the City Property Committee, with power to act.

IMPROVEMENT ASKED FOR.

Mr. GOLDEN, resolution for a flag-stone crossing on east Ohio street, in front of Mr. Shellaby's business house. Referred.

Mr. SHOLES, resolution directing the Survey Committee to investigate and ascertain whether City Engineer Davis, since his election, has been employed by any other parties than the city. Referred.

Select Council business was next taken up and concurred in excepting a resolution referring back to the Finance Committee for further consideration the matter of issuing $25,000 worth of sewer bonds to build the Ninth and Eleventh ward sewer. The Finance Committee reported adverse to the issue of these bonds and the Select Council passed the resolution to induce the committee to reconsider that action. Common Council laid the resolution on the table.

The viewers' report on the opening of Grant alley, approved in S. C., was in C. C. laid over.

The following, passed in S. C. April 8th, were taken up: An ordinance refunding $600 to Barnard Gray; passed. An ordinance authorizing the refunding of certain taxes; passed. Resolution for the filing of the bond of the city in the opening of Church avenue extension; passed. C. C. concurred in the action of S. C. concerning the resolution instructing the Street Committee in relation to the report of the viewers on Federal lane.

It being twenty minutes of eleven o'clock, Common Council adjourned before all the business from the Select Branch was disposed of.

THE BAPTIST SOCIAL UNION.

Anniversary Exercises Held in the Fourth Avenue Baptist Church Last Night—Reports Submitted for the Past Year—Officers Elected—An Interesting Discussion.

The first anniversary meeting of the Baptist Social Union, which is made up of all the churches of this denomination in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, was held in the Fourth Avenue Baptist Church last night, a fair attendance being present.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Prof. L. H. Eaton, and the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. B. F. Woodburn, of Allegheny.

At their conclusion, the Union entered upon the business which was before the body and the first thing in order was the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved.

The Secretary having no report to make, Mr. G. R. Lauman, the Treasurer, stated that the receipts for the past year had aggregated $41.90 and the expenses covered the amount, leaving nothing in the treasury.

Following the report, President Eaton took the floor and gave a short history of the Union. In the course of his remarks he said the socity had been organized a year ago, in the Fourth avenue Baptist church, and he thought it a suitable place for it to celebrate its first anniversary. He stated its object, and said that before its organization, it seemed that the different Baptist churches of the city was to some extent alienated from each other, none extending a sympathetic hand to the other, but now he thought a warm feeling of brotherly love ran through all the churches, and the people composing them were much more sociable, and felt that they had a common interest. The speaker further remarked that there was wealth in the different city and country churches sufficient to carry forward any enterprise which might be undertaken, and he thought the Union was calculated to make the members of the different religious organizations see each others needs, and induce them to be liberal in their gifts.

A statement was made of the number and places of holding the different meetings during the past year, and it appeared from the records, that the Union had come together no less than half a dozen times, in as many different churches.

The speaker closed his remarks by calling attention to the amount of good which might be accomplished through the instrumentality of the organization, and asked those who were members of the body to exert an influence for good.

A motion was made and carried that the speech of the President be prepared for publication.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was the next thing in order, and Rev. J. S. Hutson, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, was called upon to report, which was done, and the following names being suggested, they were unanimously elected to the positions designated:

President—L. H. Eaton.
Vice President—F. F. Gust.
Secretary—F. J. Rebbeck.
Treasurer—Benjamin Crowther.

Rev. Mr. Hutson also suggested one or two changes in the constitution of the Society, which were adopted.

The question of the expenses which were likely to be incurred during the year was discussed at some length, and it was decided not to charge one dollar admission, in order to become a member of the Union, but to take up a collection at each monthly meeting in order to cover all necessary expenditures. This plan was adopted in order to prevent no one connected with the church from being present, with untrammeled rights, in the business meetings.

At half past eight o'clock a recess was had, but before adjourning the exercises for a social chat, the President stated that he hoped an effort would be made to improve the time in social conversation and hand shaking. Half an hour was occupied in this way, when order was again restored, and a discussion ensued on the subject "What are the elements of strength in a Christian Church?" which was opened by Rev. A. Shadrach, followed by a number of voluntary addresses. The discussion was quite spirited, and developed some interesting points. After remaining in session until ten o'clock the audience was dismissed, and the crowd dispersed for their homes. The occasion was one of great enjoyment, and was greatly appreciated by those who were present and took part in the exercises.

It proposes making the hall somewhat like Library Hall, and rendering it suitable for lectures, concerts, and other entertainments. The estimated cost of altering the entire hall is $3,000, and of altering the stage only and providing scenery, $1,500. The plan was approved, and it was decided to recommend to Councils a resolution authorizing the change in both hall and stage.

PERSONAL.

Hon. James H. Graham was admitted to practice in the Common Pleas Courts yesterday. Mr. Graham was lately President Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial District, a position which he occupied for twenty years. He is now a resident of Pittsburgh, where he intends to practice law.

The proposed improvement of the harbor of Pittsburgh by means of a dam across the Ohio river, recently suggested by the U. S. Engineer officers, who recently visited this city, was originally proposed by Mr. John Rhey, who was engaged largely in the coal business. Mr. Rhey, in the year 1847, drafted a memorial on the subject and published it in the GAZETTE. Like many others, he was ahead of his day, and his project has slept for nearly thirty years.

FAREWELL TO COLLEGE.

Western Theological Seminary—Conferring Diplomas Upon the Members of the Graduating Class.

An audience of ladies and gentlemen which filled the spacious edifice assembled last evening in the North Presbyterian church, Allegheny, Rev. Dr. Hodge, pastor, to witness the exercises connected with the conferring of degrees upon the members of the graduating class of the Western Theological Seminary.

Rev. S. J. Wilson presided on the occasion, and Revs. Drs. Hahn, Hodge and Lowrie participated in the exercises.

The services were opened at half past seven o'clock, with devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Hahn, of Zanesville, Ohio, after which two members of the graduating class, who had been selected for the duty, delivered addresses.

The first speaker was Mr. Wm. S. Fulton, of Merittstown, who discussed the life-work and character of Calvin.

The second address was by Mr. John N. MacGonigle, of Pittsburgh, who gave a history of the rise, progress and influence of "Hymnology."

The addresses were both creditable in every way. The arrangement, the thought and the language betokened careful culture and minds of originality, and the performances were highly enjoyed by the audience.

After the addresses Rev. Dr. Wilson announced that the Comingo prize of $100 had been divided, and awarded to Jesse C. Bruce and W. A. Macky, of the middle class for scholarship in old Testament language and Exegesis. The Chambers prize of $100 for scholarship in New Testament Greek language and Exegesis had been awarded to Enoch I. Davis, and a second prize of $50 awarded to R. M. Davis. A prize of $50 for scholarship in elementary Hebrew had been awarded to S. W. Pringle.

The members of the graduating class were then called forward, and received their diplomas from Dr. Wilson, who made a short, but exceedingly appropriate address to those who thus were about to bid farewell to college. The class numbered fourteen persons, as follows: Perrin Baker, Cross Creek; Edward Bryan, Carbondale; Warren Stark Danley, Good Intent; Wm. S. Fulton, Merrittstown; John Joseph Graham, Athens, Ill.; John Baxter Hall, Rock Lick, W. Va.; Dillwyn M. Hazlett, Indiana; T. H. Kohr, Winfield, O.; Geo. F. Leclere, Rockdale, Iowa; John N. MacGonigle, Pittsburgh; James A. Menaul, Allegheny; W. Walker Morton, Hookstown; David J. Stewart, Murraysville; J. Vance Stockton, Lima, O.

Rev. Dr. Hodge followed the delivery of the diplomas with an impressive prayer, after which the class united in singing the hymn "I love to tell the story," which concluded the services, the audience being dismissed with the benediction by the Rev. Dr. Hodge.

BLOOD DISEASES.

The blood being the source from which our systems are built up and from which we derive our mental as well as physical capabilities, how important that it should be kept pure. If it contains vile festering poisons all organic functions are weakened thereby. Settling upon important organs, as the lungs, liver or kidneys, the effect is most disastrous. Hence it behooves every one to keep their blood in a perfectly healthy condition, and more especially does this apply at this particular season of the year than at any other. No matter what the exciting cause may be, the real cause of a large proportion of all diseases is bad blood. Now, Dr. Pierce does not wish to place his Golden Medical Discovery in the catalogue of quack patent nostrums by recommending it to cure every disease, nor does he so recommend it, on the contrary there are hundreds of diseases that he acknowledges it will not cure; but what he does claim is this, that there is but one form of blood disease that it will not cure, and that disease is cancer. He does not recommend this Discovery for that disease, yet he knows it to be the most searching blood cleanser yet discovered, and that it will free the blood and system of all other known blood poisons, be they animal, vegetable or mineral. The Golden Discovery is warranted by him to cure the worst forms of Skin Diseases, as all forms of Blotches, Pimples and Eruptions, also all Glandular Swellings and the worst form of Scrofulous and Ulcerated Sores of the Neck, Legs, or other parts, and all Scrofulous Diseases of the Bones, as White Swellings, Fever Sores, Hip Joint and Spinal Diseases, all of which belong to Scrofulous diseases.

CONFIRMED—HIP JOINT DISEASE CURED.

W. GROVE STATION, Ia., July 14, 1872.

DR. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—My wife first became lame nine years ago. Swellings would appear and disappear on her hip, and she was gradually becoming reduced, and her whole system rotten with disease. In 1871 a swelling broke on her hip discharging large quantities, and since that time there are several openings. Have had five doctors at an expense of $125, who say nothing will do any good but a surgical operation.

July 16th, 1873, he writes thus: My wife has certainly received a great benefit from the use of your Discovery, for she was not able to get off the bed and was not expected to live a week when she commenced using it, a year ago. She has been doing most of her work for over six months. Has used twenty bottles and is still using it. Her recovery is considered as almost a miracle, and we attribute it all to the use of your valuable medicine. I can cheerfully recommend it as a blood purifier and strength restorer.

THE WORK OF CHARITY.

The Annual Meeting of the Ladies' Charitable Association of the Homeopathic Hospital.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Charitable Association of the Homeopathic Hospital was held on Wednesday, at which there was a large attendance.

The Secretary Mrs. J. T. Colvin, presented the annual report as follows, for the year ending March 31, 1875:

To the Board of Managers:

LADIES—The patients in charge of the Association during the year numbered 173; of them, seven died; born, five; amount paid for Board of Charity patients, $2,210.85.

During the trying year through which we have passed, the resources of the Association have been severely taxed, but with the aid of generous friends, who have promptly responded to the call for help, the work has not fallen short, and we can review with pleasure the steady growth of this charity. All communions and classes have manifested a desire for the success of this work, and it has been gradually growing in favor with the people.

The object of the Association is to contribute to the maintenance of charity patients whose cases shall be deemed admissible by the examining physicians selected for that purpose.

The bodily infirmities of the inmates are not only cared for, but also the manners and habits are improved, and the self-respect inculcated here will no doubt in many instances follow them throughout life. The young men of the Christian Association have aided in this work, having labored faithfully to foster morality and piety among the patients. The thanks of the managers are due them for their punctual attendance during the year.

The precision and order characterizing the management of the hospital are owing to the untiring efforts of the Matron, who is ever anxious to promote the comfort and happiness of the inmates. The Board express hearty approbation of the judicious course she pursues.

The ladies gratefully acknowledge the kindness of many friends who have in various ways given evidence of interest in this work.

God has taught us that by manifesting love to our fellow men, we thereby show forth our love to Him.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

MRS. J. T. COLVIN,
Secretary.

The report of the Treasurer, Mrs. George Bingham, was then submitted, from which we extract the following:

Balance at beginning of year, $844 82; receipts from all sources, $1,115 92; disbursements, $1,759 18—leaving a balance of $201 56 in the Treasury. When the bills are all paid there will not be a cent in the Treasury.

The reports were received. The officers and managers for the ensuing year are as follows:

President—Miss Mary E. Moorhead.

Vice Presidents—Mrs. Robert Woods, Mrs. J. H. Swett.

Treasurer—Mrs. Geo. Bingham.

Secretary—Mrs. J. T. Colvin.

A Self-Advertising Remedy.

There are certain proprietary articles that advertise themselves. Among these are Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It may be truly said of this celebrated remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, and antidote to malaria, that the contents of every bottle is an advertisement, since its good effects so decidedly and promptly evince themselves as invariably to elicit favorable comment from those who use it. This is particularly true in rural neighborhoods invaded by chills and fever, and other types of malaria, for which it is a recognized specific. Such disorders being epidemic, the question "What is the best remedy and safeguard?" naturally presents itself to everybody in this vicinity, and is made the subject of general inquiry. A family benefited by the Bitters communicates the fact to the neighbors, who in turn become patrons of the great remedy, and proclaim its efficacy. This explains why it has become the most popular of American household medicines, and why its popularity is continually on the increase.
